League Of Nations To Set Date For Disarming Meet

FRANCE AND ITALY FAIL IN ACCORD

Preparatory Disarmament Commission to End Its Work November Third

BRITISH WILL HELP

World Conference Will Be Called By League for October of Next Year

GENEVA, Sept. 25.—(UP)—The League of Nations was ready today to fix the date for a general disarmament conference, despite the indefinite suspension of Franco-Italian negotiations for an agreement on naval limitations.

The League's preparatory disarmament commission will finish its work at a session beginning Nov. 3. Dr. J. L. Henderson, president of the commission, said, "The League thus gained in its efforts to clear the disarmament atmosphere for the world conference to be called in October, 1931, but lost by the definite break in the Franco-Italian conferences to settle differences carried over from the London naval conference."

It was understood that British foreign secretary, Arthur Henderson, would postpone his return to London in the interests of friendly intervention in the Franco-Italian situation.

Meanwhile, there were arguments within the disarmament commission itself regarding the value of the preparatory body's work. Count Bernstorff of Germany said the preparatory commission had done nothing to hasten disarmament. Lord Cecil of Britain opposed this view, stating the commission had "fulfilled its task to a great extent."

Both speakers agreed on the necessity of preparing for a general disarmament parley and removing all obstacles that might hinder its success.

Franco-Italian negotiations were halted when France declined to accept the latest Italian offer, which allowed the French navy a superiority of more than 100,000 tons until 1936, an Italian spokesman said.

Roosevelt Quits Philippines Job; Goes To Hungary

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—(UP)—The flood of protests from the Philippines which followed the recent appointment of Nicholas Roosevelt as vice governor of the islands had resulted today in the New York writer's resignation from the post.

Instead, he is to become minister to Hungary, succeeding J. Butler Wright, former assistant secretary of state, who is being transferred from Budapest to replace Leland Harrison as minister to Uruguay. Harrison's resignation was announced yesterday at the White House.

In resigning, Roosevelt informed President Hoover of his writings concerning Philippines political questions had been misunderstood and as a result of "one-sided propaganda" against him, he had decided not to accept the appointment. Mr. Hoover said he accepted the resignation "with reluctance."

Obeys Golfing Edict And Loses $5445

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 25.—(UP)—Dewey L. Reams, restaurant man, obeyed the golfing edict to "keep your eye on the ball," and it cost him $5,445.

It seems Reams was so intent on the little white pellet that on the follow-through as the golfers say, his niblick struck Mrs. Frances L. Clark. Reams answered Mrs. Clark's $20,194 damage suit by claiming she should have stepped back out of harm's way when he took his stance, as the golfers say, but Judge Elliott Craig decided she was entitled to $5,445 and gave judgment for that amount.

CLARA RELATES STORY OF HOW SHE GAMBLLED

"It" Girl of Screen Says She Thought She Was Playing for 50 Cents

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 25.—(UP)—The story of a brief but expensive stay at the Calneva, Nev., gambling tables was told by Clara Bow today a few hours after a typical statement by Will Rogers had released her from the silence demanded by social amenities.

The movie "It" girl looked once at a morning newspaper in which Rogers admitted that he had "sort of" introduced her at Calneva and announced that she was ready to talk.

Her explanation of her worthless checks for $13,900 was made tersely. She was unacquainted with the gambling table procedure and found out too late that 50-cent pieces given her to play with represented $100 each, she said.

The statement inferred that even when Miss Bow left the tables she thought she had lost only 139 chips valued at 50 cents each, or a total of $70.

But, she said, when the checks she had signed appeared at the bank they were for 139 chips at $100 each, or a total of $13,900.

It was Miss Bow's bankers who first began an investigation of the checks. Attached to the four slips was a note asking the bank to "wire the fate of these checks," the statement said. The bankers informed her that the gambling house claimed almost $14,000 and she ordered payment stopped.

Repeats Statement

"As I said in my first statement, if these people think they have an honest claim against me I will gladly receive a legal document that they serve on me or they can present them to my attorney, W. L. Gilbert," Miss Bow stated.

"I have not previously given details concerning the affair at Calneva because I did not care to mix my host, Will Rogers, in my personal affairs. However, since he has seen fit to make a statement to the papers there appears to be no reason for me to keep quiet."

"I had never been to Lake Tahoe so not being at work on a picture I decided to take a short trip with my secretary, Miss Daisy Devore, to Lake Tahoe, where, which everyone knows is a very fine, respectable place. While there Mr. Rogers invited Rex Bell, Miss Devore and myself to dinner at Calneva. I did not know that it was a gambling place until after we reached there. After we had dinner Mr. Rogers went to one of the gambling tables and naturally we went with him."

ALLEGED OROVILLE MURDERER CAUGHT

OROVILLE, Calif., Sept. 25.—(UP)—Charles E. Conklin, charged with the murder of Arthur O. Panter, was enroute here today from Chester, Plumas county, where he was captured yesterday.

After the shooting Monday night, Conklin fled into the mountains in an automobile.

While posers were seeking him yesterday, he arrived at Jonesville, an isolated hamlet in the mountains, where he met and talked with Chief of Police C. E. Tovee, of Chico, who was on a hunting trip. Tovee left Chico on the trip before the shooting and subsequently search for Conklin. He was later taken in custody by Deputy Sheriff Jake Stover.

175 Killed When Towns Destroyed By Violent Quake

MOSCOW, Sept. 25.—(UP)—At least 175 persons were killed and more than 300 injured in an earthquake that destroyed seven villages near Stalinabad on September 23, it was revealed today.

Twelve hundred persons were reported homeless. The most severe damage was done on the outskirts of the Dubea Yangibazar region. Further details had not been received here today.

ASKS FOR BILLS

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Sept. 25.—(UP)—Legislators have been asked by Governor Young to forward bills which they intend to introduce at the next legislature to the legislative council bureau for pre-printing.

This is being done to avoid confusion when the lawmakers assemble here in January. A heavy load is taken off the state printing plant if this work can be started before the session begins, Governor Young's letter said.

FIRST HALF OF QUALIFYING ROUND IN GOLF MEET ENDS

HOOVER RECORD EXPOUNDED AT N. Y. CONCLAVE

Secretary Stimson Delivers Keynote Address at G. O. P. Meeting

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 25.—(UP)—President Hoover has carried out 34 of 35 pledges made in the Republican platform, Secretary of State Henry D. Stimson told the Republican state convention today in the keynote address.

He pronounced the administration the most successful in his 40 years of political observation and felt additional credit accrued because its accomplishments had been recorded in the face of great obstacles created by business.

Although prohibition is the big question before the convention, Stimson made no mention of it, confining himself to a discussion of the record of the Hoover administration.

Some disposition of prohibition seemed necessary because of the position taken by Charles H. Tuttle, leading candidate for the nomination for governor. He has announced that unless a plank calling for repeal of the prohibition law is inserted in the Republican platform, he does not care to be the party's candidate.

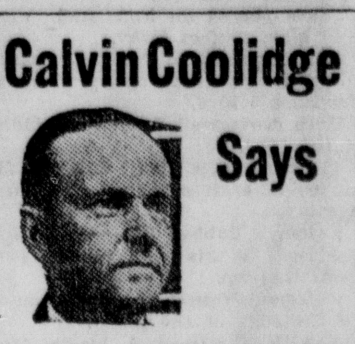

The dry element of the party has rallied for violent opposition to any repeal plank.

Stimson hailed President Hoover's leadership in the financial depression saying it prevented "the immediate panic which threatened in the autumn of 1929."

Before opening of the convention prohibition was the big issue being discussed in the corridors and on the streets.

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, was active as a proponent of a prohibition repeal plank. Wets were jubilant over an announcement by Judge Isadore Bookstein, chairman of the Albany delegation, that he believed his delegates would vote 100 per cent wet.

A band playing "How Dry I Am" greeted delegates as they arrived.

Calvin Coolidge Says

BY CALVIN COOLIDGE

Former President of the United States

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Sept. 25.—This is the time of year when the agricultural fairs are flourishing. Some of the younger generation of the large cities probably have never had the opportunity to visit one of these excellent places of entertainment and instruction. But they are familiar to all our rural inhabitants and to most of the older urban population who have been recruited from the country.

These exhibitions of farm stock and produce, from the field and from the kitchen, are considered so important in stimulating and improving agriculture that they generally are encouraged by liberal appropriations from the state treasury. But their revenues, sometimes very large, are mainly derived from charges for admission. They are nearly all mutual benefit associations so that there are no personal profits and the whole income goes for maintenance.

The more modern and intricate forms of amusement are not able to detract from the wholesome pleasure that youth and age derive from the old-fashioned fair and cattle show. These autumn days will carry many, through cherished memories back to them. They are a natural expression of human social instinct and friendly rivalry which nothing entirely can displace.

FRANK LINDSAY REPORTED SEEN IN SOUTHLAND

Alleged Super-Criminal Is Believed to Be Hiding Near Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 25.—(UP)—Charles E. Murphy, alias Everett Frank Lindsay, sought for two murders in the Pacific northwest, was reported seen in Los Angeles by several persons in the last 24 hours, police said today.

Murphy, wanted for murdering his bigamous wife in Seattle and a wealthy rancher in another part of Washington, was traced this week to the San Pedro harbor district, then through Long Beach and southward to Fullerton.

The trail led back to Los Angeles with the report of Mrs. A. Launer, who said a man resembling Murphy purchased goods at her bakery, G. H. Frell, a druggist, made a similar report, and Mrs. B. Magruder said she saw a man who "looked like Murphy" alighting from a street car.

Murphy first was sought here for kidnaping an 11-year-old Napa, Calif., girl, whom he sent home when he learned that he was trailed.

U. S. Officials and Representatives of Board Hold Meet

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—(UP)—Secretary of Agriculture Hyde, Chairman Legge, and Secretary of Commerce Lamont met today with representatives of the Chicago Board of Trade here in a conference which was understood to concern the short selling of wheat by Soviet Russia in the Chicago pit.

The board was represented by Silas H. Strawn, counsel, and James Norris, Peter P. Carey and Siebel C. Harris.

The conferees refused to discuss the purpose of their meeting before entering the conference room at the department of agriculture.

EXPLORER LOST FOR 48 HOURS RETURNS HOME

Major Burwash Back In Winnipeg After Forced Landing Wednesday

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept. 25.—(UP)—Missing for nearly 48 hours, Major L. T. Burwash, arctic explorer, who discovered the camps of Sir John Franklin, reached Winnipeg this morning in a Fokker plane piloted by W. J. McDonough. The big hydroplane had been forced to land at Ford Alexander on Lake Winnipeg because of bad weather and the aviators had been unable to notify local airmen.

Telegraph and telephone poles were broken down and wires snapped under the fury of the storm. North and south communication lines between the provinces were broken.

Eastern Canadian messages were relayed to Alberta and the Pacific coast from Toronto by way of New York and Seattle until hastily made repairs restored the lines.

Lethbridge, Alberta, reported an inch of snow while Prince George, B. C., had a low temperature of 12 degrees above zero. In Alberta, Grande Prairie registered 24 above.

ATTACK UNDER WAY ON STATE FRUIT ACT

FRESNO, Cal., Sept. 25.—(UP)—A court assault on the validity of a section of the new fruit and vegetable standardization act was started here yesterday when seven fruit shippers headed by R. C. Blake and Company, Inc., brought suit against G. H. Hocke, director of agriculture, and other state employees.

The complaint asks an injunction that would prevent the agriculture department men from stopping shipping of fruit in Sanger lugs without the words "irregular container" on them.

One Week Is Left To Get Into Tourney

Qualifiers Have Until Oct. 3 at Midnight To Turn in Their Scores

THE FIRST HALF of the qualifying round of the Register Miniature Golf Championship tournament will come to a close this evening and those planning to compete will have but one more week in which to qualify.

Already several scores have entered the tournament and it is believed that several more will have entered when qualifying round closes at midnight on Friday, October 3.

Many of the less experienced players in the city have complained that they fail to see how they have a chance at any of the prizes.

According to the rules and mode of play adopted by the tournament committee the play will be in flights and each flight will have a prize.

For example: If 100 players qualify the low 16 players will compete in the championship flight. The next 16 players will play in the second flight and the winner of this flight will win a prize. The next 16 players will form the third flight and the winner will be awarded a prize. Thus players who sheet expert golf will play against each other because their qualifying scores will place them in the same flight. Players who shoot 18 holes in three 60s or 70s automatically will find themselves in the same flight after the qualifying round. Therefore every player in the tournament has a chance to win one of the prizes, the total of which aggregate better than $500 in value.

Play is being conducted over the following nine courses:

Mission golf course, Third and Bush streets.

Palm Gardens, South Main and MacFadden.

College Greens, East Fourth street.

Fourth and Ross golf course.

Orange County Golf course, State Highway, between Santa Ana and Anaheim.

OKlahoma Widow Accused of Firing On Court Officials

ENID, Okla., Sept. 25.—(UP)—Persons who, she declared, "hounded" her until there was an explosion, were bitterly denounced today by Mrs. Dolly Doughtitt, 60-year-old widow, who faced charges of assault with intent to kill a United States commissioner.

Twenty-six years after she was freed on charges of murder in connection with the death of her husband, Mrs. Doughtitt was arrested yesterday after wounding Commissioner H. Z. Wedgewood and attempting to shoot two other officials—Judge Arthur G. Sutton and Roy Elam, an attorney—in a crowded courtroom.

Mrs. Doughtitt, who came to Oklahoma as a pioneer, drew a small revolver from her clothing and started firing when Sutton ruled against the widow in one of eight damage suits pending against her.

85,000 EXPECTED AT CATHOLIC RITES

OMAHA, Sept. 25.—(UP)—The 1930 National Eucharistic congress near its close today after a succession of solemn and colorful ceremonies witnessed by lay and cleric Catholic delegates from practically every parish in the United States.

Concluding sessions of the congress, the first since 1911, were held in the various cathedrals and churches of the city. The concluding address was to be delivered by the Right Rev. Joseph T. Schrembs, Cleveland bishop.

More than 85,000 persons were expected to witness the final ceremony—the solemn procession of the most blessed sacrament—in which all visiting clergy were to participate.

SEES SETTLEMENT OF OIL PROBLEMS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—(UP)—Eventual settlement of the disagreement between operators in the Kettelman Hills, Calif., oil field over President Hoover's oil conservation policy was foreseen today by Secretary of Interior William C. Gurnea.

Returning today from nearly a three months tour of the west, Gurnea characterized the oil dispute as the department's "most troublesome problem."

Upton Sinclair Notified He's G.O.P. Nominee

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 25.—(UP)—Upton Sinclair, writer and Socialist, was under the impression he had been nominated for governor of California by the Socialist party, but was pleased and surprised to learn he really was the Republican nominee.

Refusing to discuss the possibility of an error, Sinclair displayed an engraved card from Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan, officially notifying him of the Republican nomination.

"I foolishly believed the newspapers and I thought Mayor James Rolph of San Francisco won the Republican nomination," he wrote to Jordan. "But since I have your certificate I suppose there can be no doubt. Please see the man who prints the ballots believes your certificate and not the newspapers."

SECRETARY OF FASCIST PARTY RESIGNS POST

ROME, Sept. 25.—(UP)—Resignation of Augusto Turati as secretary general of the Fascist party was regarded today as a formal bureaucratic change and not indicative of any difference of opinion among the Fascist leaders.

Turati was succeeded by Giovanni Giurati, who will retain his position as speaker of the chamber of deputies. Turati, minister of communications, Costanzo Ciano, former minister of finance, and the deputy Rossoni were appointed members of the grand council by Premier Benito Mussolini.

The national directorate of the party also resigned, and a new directorate will be chosen by the grand council, meeting early in October.

Turati, 32 years old and holder of one of the highest posts in Fascism, was selected by Mussolini as one of his aides when the Fascist movement began to gain power.

The fact that Turati had served almost five years in office, longer than any other secretary general, and that it is the policy of the Fascists to pass important secretariats in rotation were given as proof that his resignation was not due to any political crisis.

ASTRONOMER SEES SPOT ON JUPITER

PARIS, Sept. 25.—(UP)—Abbe Moreaux, famed director of the Bourges observatory, after a month of study of Jupiter under abnormally clear conditions, announced to the United Press today that another mysterious red spot is forming on that planet, and that the spot may really be an enormous iceberg continent, 30,000 miles long and 7,000 miles wide.

The red spots of Jupiter have not gone unobserved by astronomers of history. Cassini, using crude instruments, signalled the red spot in 1665, but inscribed in his records that the spot turned later to rose and then disappeared.

DE MILLE CONFINED WITH BROKEN ANKLE

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Sept. 25.—(UP)—Cecil B. DeMille, prominent film director, has been confined to his home here since last Sunday as the result of an accident aboard his yacht, it was learned today.

DeMille and a party of friends were cruising in the Catalina Island channel Sunday in his yacht Sea-church when a heavy sea threw him to the deck. In some manner his foot was caught and several bones below the ankle were broken.

He will be able to return to work in a short while, physicians reported.

DAMAGE SUITS ARE BASED ON CRASHES

Two damage suits with claims totaling $26,550 were filed in superior court yesterday afternoon as the result of two auto accidents that have occurred recently.

Juan Tovar is plaintiff in a suit against Rex Woodward, in which damages of $15,250 were asked. Tovar's complaint alleged he was struck by a machine driven by Woodward while riding a bicycle in Anaheim on September 15. He alleged Woodward was reckless and negligent and traveling at an excessive speed, and asserted he sustained severe injuries to his head, back, shoulders and legs. He asked $15,000 personal damages and $250 for medical and hospital services.

Clarence E. Purdie is plaintiff in the other suit, which named D. M. Pettit, et al., as defendants. Purdie is seeking damages for personal injuries and property damage resulting from a collision at South Main and Edinger streets on July 24, 1930. He asserted he sustained injuries to his abdomen and pelvic region including hernia and injury to his left hip and leg. He asked judgment for a total of $11,330, including $35 for damages to his auto.

TORONTO, Ont., (UP)—Given the choice of a jail sentence for theft of a bicycle, or payment to the owner of the bicycle's value, Edgar Jacobs asked for the jail sentence "to teach me a lesson." He already had been in jail for a week on remand and found it "all right," he said.

CLARA RELATES STORY OF HOW SHE GAMBLLED

"I began to play a little at a game called '21,' which they called there 'Black Jack.' They gave me some 50-cent pieces to play with and I signed some checks in blank, telling the dealer to fill in the amount of the 50-cent pieces he had given me. There were four of these checks.

"It now seems they claim these 50-cent pieces represented what they call $100 chips, and they put enough in the checks to amount to that."

"When the checks reached my Los Angeles bank, they called me and said the checks had a slip on them telling the bank to 'wire fate of these checks.'"

"This attracted the attention of my bankers and they called me up and I found out for the first time that this gambling house claimed I had lost and owed them nearly $14,000, so I told the bank not to pay the checks."

Out of Sight
Miss Bow was both silent and out of sight all day Wednesday. Then Will Rogers was located and casually admitted that he had invited Clara to have dinner with him and Rex Bell when she visited their location.

"But as for introducing her at the gambling place I don't think it was hardly that," he said. "Introducing Clara around would be like introducing Herbert Hoover to the United States senate or Col. Lindbergh to the Boy Scouts."

His statement was enough to make Clara speak.

"I sort of hate to ride to fame on a woman's handwagon," Rogers said, grinning.

"Red Bell, her newest boy friend, was working for me on a pitcher up near there and he tells me Clara is coming to see him," Rogers explained. "So I said 'let her come.'"

"I didn't know Clara so very well myself, as I only met her once in New York when she came back stage where I was subbing for Fred Stone."

"Well, Clara and Rex and I had dinner together, me paying the check. You can eat at the Calneva place besides gamble; it's quite a place."

"The manager knew me as I was around quite a bit while we was working on the pitcher 'Lightnin' I guess it won't hurt my reputation to be known I was in a gambling house once or twice. I've been over to Monte Carlo too, but I went there to find out what all those women were doing leaning over the tables."

Like Homecoming
"Myself, I don't gamble much; fifty or seventy-five dollars is my limit. It's been an experience you can lose money just as fast in one place as another—Monte Carlo, Agua Caliente or Calneva."

"But this Calneva place interested me. It's right near Reno, and I met the wives of so many of my friends back east it seemed like old home week."

"After dinner we sat around and the wives of a couple of fellows I used to play polo with—Mrs. Brice Wing and Mrs. Louise Stoddard—pointed out the celebrities. 'There's Mrs. Whoosis,' they said. 'She has a month to go before getting a divorce, and there's Mrs. Sawbucks. She's only got three weeks more.'"

"We went on like that for a while and then sort of drifted over to the tables. Clara wasn't gambling much while I was there, but I didn't stay more than an hour. I saw her going around, making a few bets at different tables, but she didn't seem to be betting what you might call heavy."

"But still and all I'd rather not be made famous by some woman."

Meanwhile, the responsibility of extricating herself from her difficulties was placed squarely up to Miss Bow by B. P. Schulberg, Paramount Publicist studio executive. Schulberg admitted receiving a letter from the Reno attorney of James McKay, Calneva manager.

In arguing for a dismissal of the complaint, Senator Anderson, centering his remarks about the complainant's alleged conduct, stressed the fact that a previous marriage of Mrs. Bauer had gone on the rocks on that account. Defense counsel also characterized the criminal proceedings against Bauer as "persecution," adding that if Mrs. Bauer really had thought that her husband was in position to take care of her, she would have answered the divorce complaint filed against her and would have asked for alimony.

County Still Free Of Infant Malady
For the first time since early in April, Orange county today was free of any infantile paralysis cases. The release of Noll Harris, of Garden Grove, from Orange County hospital yesterday afternoon, cleared the official records of the name of the dread malady, which has attacked 39 persons in the county during its course, with fatal results to three. The disease is still prevalent in other parts of the state to an extent that the state board of health authorities are urging that vigilance be maintained and children kept away from crowds as much as possible.

Morrison when Ralph Stull, a resident of Orange, charged with reckless driving, was sentenced to pay a fine of $200. Stull is alleged to have run into another automobile on Newport boulevard on July 4, falling to stop and render aid. The complaint, following investigation, was reduced to reckless driving, to which the defendant entered a plea of guilty.

FARM ADVISOR ENDS EUROPEAN SURVEYS

County Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg, who has been on an extensive trip through Europe this summer and was a delegate to the World Soils congress in Russia, sailed from Southampton, England, yesterday, on the White Star liner Olympic on his homeward bound journey. He has just completed a series of observations of co-operative marketing and a study of soils and fertility in Sweden and Denmark and England.

SISTERS SPLIT TODAY IN NON SUPPORT TRIAL

Sister appeared against sister this morning in the court of Justice Kenneth E. Morrison when the case of Alvin Bauer, secretary of the local journeyman barber's union, charged with non-support of wife under a criminal complaint, came up for hearing.

Mrs. Cora Clark, sister of Mrs. Rose Bauer, who filed the complaint against her husband, instead of coming to the aid of her sister, took the stand on behalf of her brother-in-law. Her rather brief testimony centered about a rolling pin, which, it was asserted, Mrs. Bauer kept within easy reach on the day of her parting with her husband. She also intimated that the defendant, not wishing to take any chances on Mrs. Bauer's temper, made no attempt to go back to his apartment for certain articles of clothing he had left there.

Following proceedings, which took up the entire forenoon, the defendant was ordered held to answer in the superior court.

Efforts on the part of Senator John N. Anderson, counsel for the defendant, to introduce testimony resulting in a decree being awarded the husband on grounds of cruelty, were blocked by Deputy District Attorney Preston Turner, who held that the records of the divorce proceedings were irrelevant.

Testimony brought out in the trial showed that Mrs. Bauer owns two residences, which are mortgaged in the amount of $4500. Dr. E. V. Kelsey, testifying for the prosecution, told the court that he was treating Mrs. Bauer for a nervous breakdown. Dr. Kelsey was subjected to a severe cross examination as to the extent of his practice in treating nerve troubles.

It also was brought out that Dr. Kelsey had advised Mrs. Bauer to take a rest and stay away from work.

The defense brought out that Bauer is a disabled Spanish war veteran, who on account of his condition, is able to work only a few days a week at his trade. Further testimony brought out that while the wife owned real estate, the husband had no property of any kind.

In arguing for a dismissal of the complaint, Senator Anderson, centering his remarks about the complainant's alleged conduct, stressed the fact that a previous marriage of Mrs. Bauer had gone on the rocks on that account. Defense counsel also characterized the criminal proceedings against Bauer as "persecution," adding that if Mrs. Bauer really had thought that her husband was in position to take care of her, she would have answered the divorce complaint filed against her and would have asked for alimony.

Plan Caravan To Carry Delegates To Farm Conclave

W. J. Norton, extension service specialist from the University of California, was in Santa Ana yesterday conferring with Farm bureau officials and outlining plans for the auto caravan to the Farm bureau convention at Asilomar on the Monterey peninsula in November. The caravan idea was developed in Orange county by J. A. Smiley, chairman of region one of the Farm bureau organization, embracing San Diego, Riverside, Imperial, San Bernardino and Orange counties, according to R. D. Flaherty, executive secretary of the Orange County Farm bureau.

It is anticipated that there will be 30 cars from the district, 15 of which will come from Orange county. The caravan will travel by districts to Salinas, where groups will converge in a huge cavalcade of over 100 motor cars. News reel concerns are planning to "shoot" scenes of the cavalcade as it approaches Asilomar. The convention is to be held November 10-13.

ORANGE LIONS HEAR ADDRESS BY STEPHENSON

Terry Stephenson, postmaster of Santa Ana and authority on the early history of Orange county, was the speaker at the regular meeting of the Lions club at Orange yesterday. Stephenson is the author of a book relating to the history of the county, which is called "Camino Viejo."

The history of Orange county parallels that of the earliest history of the state, the speaker said, and the two periods of history of the state of which most persons think is the mission period and the gold rush.

The territory now known as Orange county, was first heard of historically in 1602, and the first expedition to San Diego was sent by the Spanish in 1769, the expedition going up the coast to Monterey with 64 men, with Jose Antonio Yorba, founder of the Orange county family of this name, in the expedition, Stephenson related.

The speaker outlined the story of the expedition's stop at San Juan Capistrano and of the baptism of two Indian babies in this vicinity. The naming of Santa Ana valley on St. Ann's feast day and the grant of the Yorbas and the founding of the Rancho de Santa Ana were told.

One of the most interesting features of the talk was the story of early shipping along the coast when San Juan Capistrano and San Pedro were the only ports and when skins sent out at the former port were thrown over the cliff and picked up by small boats and carried to the larger vessels.

The Bear Flag revolt, the Fremont expedition and a brief history of the accession of California by the United States were included in the history as the speaker gave intimate details of Kit Carson's transcontinental journey to Washington with the news of the American victory.

How Fremont's expedition of 600 men on the way to California was met by Carson and what is now Oklahoma and how 400 of the men went back, also was told. The 200 men who continued their journey, camped at Warner's Hot springs, El Toro, and at what is now Olive. At Olive a Santa Ana wind was blowing and the soldiers were most uneasy, as in the high wind they would have been unable to use their guns, which were exploded by a pan of powder, in case of an attack by unfriendly persons. The expedition was guided by John Forester.

Stephenson traced the history of the county from its earliest days to the breaking up of the large ranchos and the founding of the present cities of the county, telling of the town of St. James, which was laid out between Olive and Orange, the town of Carleton, near Orange, and that of Fairview, south of Santa Ana. Earlham was the first name given El Modena, he said.

The early 60's were marked by the great drought when cattle perished by the thousands and persons living here were in desperate straits. The introduction of products now grown, the planting of the Anaheim vineyards, the beginnings of the citrus industry, the introduction of irrigation in the late 70's, forming of the co-operative association which led to the placing of citrus growing on a profitable basis, were recalled.

The boom days of the 80's and the resulting depression were touched on briefly. The story of the bandit gangs which infested Orange county and the capture of Juan Flores brought the talk to a close.

Visitors present were Roes Phlegy, Art Hul, George Holden, Frank Tausch and W. L. Briel, of Anaheim; George Baker, Harry Betten, Ed Holmes, of Santa Ana; C. W. Sutherland and Raymond Thompson, of Fullerton, and C. Newton Richards, Benjamin S. Brubaker, of Orange. Earl Hobbs was received as a new member.

Alvin Drumm acted as chairman of the day and introduced the speaker, Ivan Swanger announced that the ladies' night would be held Friday evening at the American Legion clubhouse, when a dance will be given.

PIANIST FINDS HIGH CULTURE IN MOUNTAINS

MARION, Va., Sept. 25. — The thousands of persons who have worried over the lack of cultural education among southern mountaineers have failed wholly to recognize the fact that those same mountain whites have provided a distinct and valuable part of the nation's folk song, John Powell, internationally famed pianist believes.

"The so-called smart set has been wasting its pity and energy," Powell whose home is in Richmond told the United Press during a visit here. "The uncouth mountain man is more cultured than his water-logged sympathizers. Preservation of his folk songs, corrupted as little as may be by outside influences, is one of this generation's important duties."

While here, Powell spent some time copying words and music of many tunes played for him by mountain musicians. He remarked a superiority of mountain culture while expressing enthusiasm for the naive songs.

"To understand exactly my meaning, it is necessary to revise the average man's conception of culture," Powell explained. "To most people culture means a sort of veneer, acquired by laborious conning of books, which hides a man's native crudities. Millions believed a cultured man is one who puts on airs and tries to think he's better than anyone else."

"Instead, culture, in its true sense, is a mingling of the racial traditions and the racial consciousness of a people, handed down for thousands of years, permeating the consciousness of the individual, while at the same time it remains an entity—a whole. And the man who is thoroughly saturated in the traditions and characteristics of his people—who knows, through the medium of folk song and lore the suffering, achievements and aspirations of his racial strain—is far more cultured than the ordinary educated person with 'book learning'."

This definition of culture, Powell said, was first given him by Mrs. John Richard Green, widow of a prominent English historian. She did so, the pianist said, by shocking him with reference to the extremely high state of culture of the very poor people who lived in a certain section of Ireland.

"At first I could make no sense to her remarks," Powell said. "I knew those Irish existed in one or two roomed houses with mud floors; the pigs and cattle resided in those rooms on terms of complete equality with people; and that when potato crops failed everyone confronted absolute starvation. Under such circumstances their principal food was chicken cooked after being mixed with blood drawn from the family cow."

"But, Mrs. Green pointed out, many of those Irish could recite the complete history of their country from its earliest days with an astounding beauty of language and wealth of imagery. They could sing the simple old melodies of Ireland in manners and voices of surpassing beauty. Despite their rude way of living, they had a native graciousness and kindness that was intuitive and not the result of formal education. I came to know these people and agree with Mrs. Green they were in the finest, broadest sense, folk of high culture."

"And, the same thing is true of southern mountaineers. Behind what appears at first a stiff, standoffish attitude they hide kindness and grace. And if their store of poetry, song and other forms of tradition do not extend so far back as that of the Irish, it goes at least to the days of Elizabeth."

"Mountain music is the nearest approach to folk music America has. If it be objected that it is not indigenous to America, I have only to say that neither are any of the white races inhabiting this continent. We must preserve this music before it is too late."

Powell believes the mountain people are better off if ignored by the attentions of "uplifting" outsiders.

ST. LOUIS BOY SINGS PRAISE OF HOBO KING

DENVER, Sept. 25. — (INS)—James Eads How, deceased king of American hoboes, ranks right along with such national heroes as Washington and Lincoln in the mind of 15-year-old Blackie Maloney of St. Louis, self-styled king of hitchhikers. Blackie admits that when he left home eleven months ago to make a first hand sociological survey of the country he was pretty much in doubt as to just who How was or why. But since that time travel has broadened him to the point where he believes he is an authority of itinerant heroes.

Blackie declared time out in his globe trotting schedule just long enough to inform Denver friends of his new hero "find." Blackie's chief desire in life at the moment is to gain for How the fame that he thinks should be his. But financial difficulty—which with Blackie is different from embarrassment—prevents him from starting the national campaign that he thinks is long overdue.

When Blackie left home he had eight cents. When he arrived in Denver he had fifty cents which isn't really enough profit to write home about.

But Blackie doesn't. He writes home about other things such as How's claim to fame and the things that he has seen in the forty-two states of the union and three foreign countries that he has invaded since he decided to become a man of the world.

Blackie is a professional, dyed-in-the-wool hitch-hiker, according to his own modest but equally expressive description. He plans to make a claim for the national hitchhiking championship when he returns to St. Louis after checking up on the existence of Pike's peak. "Mexico's a good country," Blackie declared when he was questioned about his travels. "So is Cuba, so is Canada. I just walked into Mexico; nobody seemed to care. Cuba wasn't so hard either—all I had to do was find the right freighter. But Canada was tough. They wouldn't let me in unless I had $50. I had to borrow it from a relative on the border."

"But," Blackie continued, "I didn't spend one darn cent of it."

"Blackie's financial cheerfulness brought questioning, and he was asked how he managed to feed himself since he had no visible means of support."

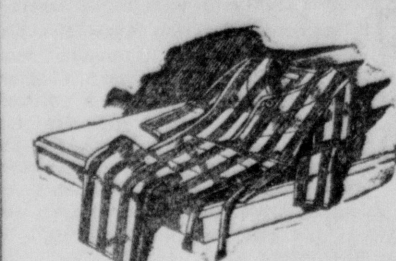

"I got my feet and I guess they're visible enough," he said lifting his "sole" support off the floor. "I'm a tap dancer, and that's how I make money. I go to dance halls and places like that and I just dance, and I get money."

It developed that Blackie's dancing is almost as professional as his hitchhiking. He carries special shoes with him even though, as he said, "they sorta get in the way."

Blackie declares that he has had little trouble in finding rides in any state. A clean shirt is all that the average motorist requires of a "pick-up" passenger, according to Blackie.

Following his Colorado visit, Blackie is going to stop in St. Louis, add a few needed shirts to his wardrobe and start off for Europe—unless dad and mother feel that it is about time he is tempering a bit of schooling with his unofficial education.

"QUALITY IS EVERYTHING"

Says

JOHN HERTZ

Chairman of the Board
Omnibus Corp. of America

Owners of all the busses in New York and Chicago; Founder of the Yellow Cab Co. Director Forman-State National Bank, Chicago.

"A champion race horse or a leader in industry, I have found, is seldom a result of chance. Concentration upon quality—that's what counts. When I read the personal reports of your distinguished visitors, revealing your use of the Ultra Violet Ray in the 'Toasting' of the LUCKY STRIKE tobaccos, I knew that you were on the right track. Quality is everything—and the American people demand and appreciate the best."

John Hertz

LUCKY STRIKE—the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—THEN—"IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so TOASTING removes harmful irritants that cause throat irritation and coughing. No wonder 20,679 physicians have stated LUCKIES to be less irritating! Everyone knows that sunshine mellows—that's why TOASTING includes the use of the Ultra Violet Ray.

"I was nervous and rundown and weighed less than a hundred pounds. I felt tired and weak and often had to lie down. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because I saw it advertised. Now I eat well, sleep well and have good color. In fact, I couldn't feel any better and I weigh one hundred fifty-five pounds. ## SOUTHLAND C. C. PROJECT GETS BREA BACKING

BREA, Sept. 25.—Walker Davis reported on the results of the last special meeting at the regular chamber of commerce luncheon held in the Dyer-Olsen cafe yesterday noon. Both Davis and President Hogue were enthusiastic over the results of the meeting and hoped that it might be made a regular event. The regular monthly night meetings of the chamber will start in October, the date being set by the committee and announced later. A communication from the San Diego Chamber of Commerce suggested that all Southern California communities join in a political organization headed by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, the purpose of the organization being to see that Southern California receives adequate representation and to prevent the northern part of the state from taking the army units away from San Diego. This project was endorsed by the chamber.

Ed Peterkin, president of the Imperial Highway association, announced the next meeting of that body for September 27-28 at Warner's Hot Springs. The caravan will leave El Segundo at noon Saturday, reaching Brea at 1:20 p. m., and will arrive at Warner's at 5:10 p. m. Dinner will be served at 6:45, with the meeting to follow. An interesting trip has been planned for Sunday morning, and it is expected this will be the most important meeting of the season. Half rates will be in effect at Warner's, and those who go will travel over a part of the historic Butterfield stage route.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Trago were introduced as guests, and Trago, who is a candidate for the office of county treasurer, complimented Brea on the turnout at chamber of commerce meetings, 24 being present. One new member was introduced, Dr. Goodwin.

72nd Birthday Of Woman Celebrated With Plane Ride

BUENA PARK, Sept. 25.—Mrs. Lydia Meyers of West Ninth street, celebrated her 72nd birthday this week by taking her first airplane ride. Others in the party who went in Sammie Coughran's plane were her son, Ed Meyers, and her granddaughter, Helen Meyers.

WINTERSBURG

WINTERSBURG, Sept. 25.—A cleverly planned party was given at the Methodist parsonage home of the Rev. and Mrs. W. A. Matson for the Queen Esther girls, "School Begins" being the appropriate name for the party as used in the invitations. All came dressed as school girls and Miss Ophelia Frost won first prize for the cleverest costume and Miss Alice Breeding for the "smartest" school girl present.

Plans were laid by the Queen Esthers to give a play in the near future and it was voted to make high school boys eligible for membership in the Queen Esther society. Sewing for the David and Margaret home was accomplished that evening.

Present at the party were the Misses Isabelle Russell, Ophelia Frost, Alice Breeding, Maxine Bradbury, Velma Wentzel, Marguerite Peters, Leona Peters, Beth Burdette, Thelma Lee, Mildred Bailey, Gene Ruoff, Thelma Pratt, Alberta Pratt, Nellie McIntosh.

Two automobile accidents took place on the Huntington Beach highway south of Oceanview corner Monday morning. A milk truck and a coupe collided as the coupe, occupied by two oil workers attempting to turn around on the boulevard. The coupe was overturned and caught on fire while the two men were caught inside. Allen Young, of Midway City, happened along in time to extricate them. The other wreck occurred at an intersection of a dirt road, a Ford and a larger car figuring in the smash-up in which all of the occupants were cut and scratched by flying glass.

New Policy For Reverse Charge On Phone Calls

Beginning October 1, telephone users will be allowed to "reverse the charges" on inter-city station-to-station calls without paying the "particular person" rate, the Southern California Telephone company has announced.

The new arrangement will apply to all inter-city station-to-station calls for which the initial charge is 25 cents or more. "Station-to-station" is the term used to describe long distance calls in which the calling person will talk with anyone who answers, instead of a particular person.

Heretofore, "reverse charge" inter-city calls have been charged for at the "particular person" rate. This new arrangement, which will result in a direct saving to telephone users of the cost, is declared to be but one step in a broad plan of development. The telephone company announces that its program includes further changes in inter-city rates for the benefit of its customers to be placed in effect as rapidly as conditions will permit.

LEAGUE ACTION ON WAR TOPIC OF RADIO TALK

L. L. Beeman, instructor at the Santa Ana Junior college, in his talk over KREG on international relations, last night discussed the scheduled action of the League of Nations in case of the possibility of war. His talk follows:

"Any war or threat of war is regarded the concern of the whole league, which shall take whatever action it deems wise. Any member of the league may report to either the secretary general, the council or to the assembly any war or threat of war. Upon being notified of any war or threat of war, the secretary general summons a meeting of the council at once. Nations may submit their disputes to the council, the assembly or the World Court. All preparations for war must stop, when so submitted. If either nation refuses to accept the decision, it must not go to war till three months after the decision has been given. This prevents hasty action which is probably the greatest cause of war.

"The council takes the initiative in investigating any war or threat of war and summons the disturbing nations before it for explanations. "The judicial department consists of the court of international justice which is ordinarily called the World Court. It consists of 15 judges. Any 11 may hold court. The judges are elected for nine years by the assembly. They are nominated in a peculiar way. The old Hague court is made use of to nominate the judges for the new World Court under the League of Nations. The chief executives of the states which are members of the Hague court select a number of judges from his country to serve on this court, the Hague court, and these judges nominate judges from their country for the World Court. For example, the United States is a member of the Hague court. The president of the United States designates four men from the United States to serve on this court. At present they are Elihu Root, John Bassett Moore, Newton D. Baker and Charles Evans Hughes. All of whom are men of great legal learning and of unimpeachable character. These four men, after consulting the members of the United States supreme court, the faculties of leading law schools, and leading bar associations nominate the man who in their judgment is the most impartial and competent jurist. John Bassett

Moore was first elected, then Charles Evans Hughes. When Mr. Hughes was appointed chief justice, he resigned. His place is to be filled by the assembly which is now in session. Three men have been nominated: Ex-Secretary of State Frank B. Kellogg, James Brown Scott of the Princeton law school, and Dean Roscoe Pound of the Harvard law school. Kellogg was elected September 17, 1930.

"The court of international justice or world court has its seat at the Hague, in the same building with the old Hague court which Andrew Carnegie built for it.

"The advantages of this new world court over the old Hague court are:

"1. It is really a permanent court. The justices reside at the Hague and can begin a hearing on very short notice.

"2. The expenses of this court are paid by the league which assesses its members according to their ability to pay.

"3. There is a way to initiate action to bring a dispute between nations before the court. One great cause of the World War was that there was no way to get the dispute between Austria and Serbia before the old Hague court.

"4. This world court is competent to hear and decide any dispute of international character which the parties thereto submit to it. It may also give an advisory opinion on any dispute or question referred to it by the council or assembly. It was this power of rendering an advisory opinion that proved to be the stumbling block for the United States senate when it was asked by the president to sanction our entrance into the court.

"What happens if some nation refuses to submit its international dispute to the court or refuses to accept the ruling of the council or assembly and goes to war.

"1. It is regarded as the aggressor nation and is considered to have committed an act of war against all members of the league.

"2. The first thing the league does is to declare an economic boycott against the aggressor nation.

"3. If the boycott fails to compel this aggressor nation to stop fighting and settle its disputes by peaceful means, the council recommends what military action shall be taken and what military force each member nation shall contribute.

"4. If one of the states to the dispute is not a member of the league, the action is just the same as if both were members.

"5. If neither of the states are members of the league, the council invites them to become members for the purpose of settling the dispute. If they refuse to become members, the council recommends what it thinks will prevent hostilities.

"The League of Nations does away with secret treaties by requiring that all treaties must be recorded with the secretariat and published to the world before they are binding.

"The United States, though not a member, reports all her treaties for record and publication. The assembly reviews all treaties made by members of the league and revises them so they will not be in conflict with any provision of the league.

"The covenant of the league can be amended by unanimous vote of the council and a majority vote of the assembly. It has been amended several times.

"The league has not been in operation 10 years. It is often asked what has it accomplished? Permit me to mention only a few things:

"1. It has organized an international health commission which has done much to prevent the spread of contagious diseases, especially venereal diseases.

"2. It has a commission on international traffic in women and girls that has made valuable investigations and has taken action which has greatly improved the very shocking conditions found to exist and is still doing valuable work.

"3. It has held 20 international labor conventions and done much to better the working conditions throughout the world.

"4. The world court has rendered seven important decisions and 13 advisory opinions all of which have been accepted without question.

"5. It has befriended and protected minorities in many places. It has protected the Jews in Poland, the Greeks and Armenians in Turkey, the Bulgarians in Poland and the Lithuanians in Poland and the Poles in Germany.

"6. It has cared for 1,500,000 Greek refugees and 500,000 more refugees from 26 different countries at a cost of more than $50,000,000.

"7. It settled the dispute between Sweden and Finland over the Adland islands and prevented war.

"8. It stopped war between Poland and Lithuania and settled the boundary dispute between them satisfactorily.

"9. It restored finances in Austria and Hungary and loaned Austria $130,000,000.

"10. It settled the Silesian boundary dispute between Poland and Germany.

"11. It settled the territorial dispute between England and Turkey.

"12. In 1925 it settled a very serious dispute between Greece and Bulgaria. A Greek army had invaded Bulgaria and was inflicting severe punishment on the helpless Bulgarians. The Bulgarians appealed to the league. The appeal reached the secretariat about midnight. The secretary got out of bed and began calling the members of the council by telephone. The next morning they were on their way to Geneva. The next day a meeting was held. Both nations were given an ultimatum to stop fighting and the Greeks were ordered to move their armies back on Greek soil at once. A committee was immediately sent to the scene of trouble to investigate and report back to the council. The committee reported in a short time. Greece was found guilty and assessed $214,000 damages which she paid Bulgaria.

"13. In December 1928 war broke out between Bolivia and Paraguay in South America. It happened that both the Pan-American congress and the council of the League of Nations were in session at that time. As both states were members of the league, it became the duty of the league council to take some action. They were also both members of the Pan-American union. It was proper for this union to take some action. Then there is the new Monroe Doctrine which would entitle the United States to interfere. What happened. The Monroe Doctrine was not mentioned. The league and Pan-American union co-operated beautifully to the same end. Briland of France was selected by the league to speak for it. He acted promptly with kindness but with firmness. He spent $26,000 in cablegrams. The two warring states accepted the good offices of the Pan-American union and the dispute was settled without any more fighting.

"14. This year, 1930, the league has set up the international bank at Basel, Switzerland, to aid Germany pay her reparations.

"In my judgment, the greatest function the League of Nations performs is that in the capacity of furnishing 'a melting pot' for the nations of the world. By this I mean, it provides a place where representatives not only of big and little nations may meet on an equality, where the principle of democracy among nations is extended, but where representatives of groups of peoples not yet independent nations with complete self-government, may meet with their masters and other nations on an equality and be respectfully and sympathetically heard. In the League of Nations assembly, meet the representatives of the big nations of England, France, Italy, Germany and Japan, and also the little states of Switzerland, Denmark, Holland, Costa Rica and others, also the newly organized nations of Finland, Latvia, Lithuania, Poland and others and as well as representatives from Egypt, Syria, Palestine. Though the last two are not nations, only mandates, they have a right to appeal to the league for a hearing any time they feel they are not receiving justice from the nation holding the mandate over them.

"It is quite a different thing to talk over differences in the presence of a number of other parties who are interested only in seeing that every one receives justice. It is a good thing to have witnesses.

"The covenant of the league provides that the council shall report to the assembly. At the first meeting of the assembly, the big nations sent inferior men while the small nations sent their biggest and best men. The report of the council was merely perfunctory. The members of the council were taken over the coals so severely by the members of the assembly, that the next time the report was complete and in good form. Much men as Dr. Benes from Czechoslovakia, and Branting from one of the Scandinavian states were so superior to the men from the big nations that since then the big nations have sent their ablest men.

"The five big powers provided permanent places for themselves on

ENDS DIGESTIVE ILLS QUICK AND GAINS 5 POUNDS

Food does not nourish when it is not properly digested. That's why people who suffer from gas on stomach and bowels, belching, nausea, headaches, dizziness, etc., due to indigestion, often find themselves underweight, weak, with little energy and vitality.

All this is quickly changed when you start using the simple discovery known as Pape's Diapepsin. When people experience for themselves the amazing results of using these tasty little tablets, they invariably feel compelled to tell others.

Mr. Wm. R. Ficklin, 3036 West Pico Street, Los Angeles, Calif., says: "I suffered for over two years with hyperacidity, gas and headaches; trying all the time to get relief by using soda and treatments.

"Then I learned about Pape's Diapepsin and began on it. It has been a wonderful help to me. I eat pastries now without bad after-effects. How they used to make me suffer!

"Friends that I have told about Diapepsin have been helped in the same way. I have gained five pounds since starting on it."

All druggists sell it; or if you wish to try it before buying, write "Pape's Diapepsin," Wheeling, W. Va., for a trial box, FREE.

Piles Go Quick

Piles are caused by congestion of blood in the lower bowel. Only an internal remedy can remove the cause. That's why salves and cutting fail. Dr. Leonard's Hem-Roid, a harmless tablet, succeeds, because it relieves this congestion and strengthens the affected parts. Hem-Roid has given quick, safe and lasting relief to thousands of pile sufferers. It will do the same for you or money back. McCoy's Drug Stores and druggists everywhere sell Hem-Roid with this guarantee.—Adv.

"OLD GOLD seems to me to be one of the biggest 'believe-it-or-nots' to be found.

"That's why I accepted OLD GOLD'S challenge to conduct a series of taste-tests in public places, with the distinct understanding that they would publish the results... WIN, LOSE OR DRAW.

"I've just completed the first test at the New York Athletic Club. Fifteen guests each smoked the four leading brands of cigarettes, with names concealed. Each picked one as best and I removed the masks.

"And, believe it or not... OLD GOLD won! Picked by 7 smokers to 3 for the next brand.

"'Believe it or not' fans know I prove my facts. I'll gladly send you an auditor's report of the score."

ALL FOR RELIGION

JACKSONVILLE, Sept. 25.—The Riverside Park Methodist church is gaining in attendance because it's doing a lot of unusual things for its congregation. It has already bought for its members one set of false teeth, a wheel chair, iced watermelons, weiners, ice cream cones and one trap gun for the use of its men's gun club. "If we can induce the public to chew their Gospel with a set of false teeth, or feed it to them along with watermelons, we have won people for the Kingdom," the pastor says.

and the Shoppers' Guide, with music, will be on the air from 6 to 6:45 p. m.

Peeks Win City Championship

DEFEAT NICKY SEAVER AND HOMANS LEAD END 18 HOLES

By virtue of their 8 to 3 win, last night, over the Builders' Exchange club team, winners of the first half of the City Night Baseball league, Arnold Peek's butcher boys were today holders of the city championship, the game last night being the second consecutive victory over the builders.

The Peek Market team won the last half of the split season and on Monday night played the first of a three-game series with the winners of the first half, for the city championship. Peek's won the first game, 10 to 3.

Last night's game was a real contest for eight innings. The Builders, on a walk and three hits, scored three runs in the first inning. Harless fanned, Griset walked, Vance singled, scoring Griset and Wayne taking third. Wendell Vance singled, scoring Griset and Wayne stole second. Nicky fanned. Wilcutt singled, scoring Vance and Vance.

After that, Ed Banta, star chucker for the Peek's team, tightened up. He was wild throughout the evening, but base knocks off him after the first inning were few and far between. To be exact, only two hits were garnered by the builders after the first.

In the fourth, Peek's scored its first run without a hit. Peek's added another in the seventh when Wright doubled with a man on second.

In the eighth, Wilcutt, who had been pitching stellar ball wilted and the Peekmen drove in four runs, making them on doubles by Jerome and Banta and a beautiful home run by "Red" Angel, erstwhile pitcher, who had been playing snappy ball in right field. Angel hit to left field, the ball rolling up the incline at the far side of the field. He could have walked around.

Three hits in the ninth drove in two more runs for the Peekmen, including a double by Snow.

The St. Louis Cardinals had a chance today to clinch the National League pennant. If the Cardinals should win from Pittsburgh and the Chicago Cubs lose to Cincinnati, St. Louis would clinch the flag. Even if the Cards dropped three remaining games after today and the Cubs won their next three games, St. Louis would finish one game ahead as follows:

W. L. Pct.
St. Louis . . . 90 64 .584
Chicago . . . 89 65 .578

The Cardinals can clinch the flag by winning two of their remaining four games, regardless of what the Cubs do in their four remaining games. If the Cubs lose one game, the best they can do is one game for the pennant even if the Cardinals should lose four in a row to the Pirates.

The standing of the two leaders before today's games follows:

W. L. Pct. G.T.P.
St. Louis . . . 89 61 .593 . . 4
Chicago . . . 86 64 .573 . . 4

The dizzy decline of the Brooklyn Robins continued yesterday when they lost their seventh straight game and dropped to fourth place. The last place Phillies beat the Robins, 6-3, and enabled the idle New York Giants to move into third place half a game ahead of the Robins. Brooklyn's losing streak comes on the heels of their 11 game winning spurt, longest of the season, which hoisted them to the top only to start their descent.

In the other National League game Pittsburgh beat Cincinnati, 5-2, the game being halted after five innings by rain.

The Boston Red Sox defeated Washington in the only American league game, 6-3.

COTTON HORSES IN AFTER BIG SEASON

SAN CLEMENTE, Sept. 25.—Hamilton H. Cotton's La Brea racing string is home from the wars on eastern tracks. The horses and men arrived yesterday. Darrell Cannon, trainer did not come with the string, stopping off in Washington to visit friends at Walla Walla. He will be on hand in a week or so.

At the Chicago tracks the Cotton string swept to victory in seven races. Theorist Jane, three, Come On, two and Seguro, one. The My Play horse, Come On was claimed after one of his races. Cannon before coming home visited Saratoga and bought three yearlings at the annual sale, horses out of Ballot, My Play and Bagnuer.

All of the Cotton string is now at the San Clemente ranch. Bill Busch has charge of the horses at the Summer meeting at Agua Caliente where he had great success. All horses are in training for the coming season at the Mexican track which opens late in December.

The following came back from Chicago: Doughnuts, Harrington, Bill Standford, Johnny and Ray Flynn and Ellsworth Sylvia.

MICKEY WALKER IN WIN OVER SWIDERSKI

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 25.—Mickey Walker, of Rumson, N. J., middleweight champion, defeated Paul Swiderski, Syracuse, in a 10-round non-title bout here last night. Walker weighed 163, Swiderski 158. ### A PERFECT COURTSHIP

Every day is courting day—on and off the tennis court—for these two racquet stars. John Van Ryn and Marjorie K. Gladman, who fought a love war with Dan Cupid, are shown here at the Westchester-Biltmore club, Rye, N. Y., in the first picture taken of them since the recent announcement of their engagement.

FOOTBALL AT SAN JUAN MAKES ITS INITIAL APPEARANCE IN ORANGE COUNTY COMPETITION

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Sept. 25.—High school activities are well under way in the local Union High, with interest predominating in the newly organized football squad, which went out for practice for the first time, Monday afternoon.

Coach Stanley Gould, whose activities with high school students and adult classes for men and women of the town, in the fine new Williams gymnasium, put San Juan Capistrano on the map, enthusiastically about his lineup, although the team as a whole will be light.

New equipment has been purchased, at a cost of more than $550, and practice is now under way, with an accepted schedule of games booked with "B" teams of various Orange county high schools. A skirmish is scheduled with Tustin Garden Grove, Oct. 2; Anaheim, Oct. 9; Tustin, Oct. 16; Huntington Beach, Oct. 23; Brea, Oct. 30; Excelsior, Nov. 6; Orange, Nov. 13. All games will be played away from the home field, unless the new football field, just put into condition can be softened and made better for play.

The new field, which is located on a five acre tract on Main street, between the high and grammar schools, has been graded, rolled and leveled, but is still too hard for challenge games. Arrangements are being made with C. E. Crumrine, superintendent of the City water works, to flood the field, and soften up the ground. If this is accomplished, several of the scheduled games will be played in Capistrano.

BOBBY JONES' COMPETITORS IN MERION GOLF TOURNAMENT ARE DESCRIBED AS 'SET-UPS'

BY FRANK GETTY
United Press Sports Editor
MERION CRICKET CLUB, ARDMORE, Pa., Sept. 25.—(UP)—With his road to the championship unexpectedly paved with what can only be described as set ups, Bobby Jones looked forward confidently today to achieving his ambition and winning his fourth major golf title of the year.

Every golfer in the 34th amateur championship who might have given the Atlanta a battle has been eliminated, either by failure to qualify for match play or through the upsets encountered in those two extraordinary match play rounds yesterday.

Bobby, through one of those unusual streaks of fortune which sometimes intrude upon his otherwise meticulous and mathematical pastime, has been favorable beyond the fondest dreams of his friends and backers by the results of the 18-hole matches at Merion. Never has such a devastating toll of seeded players and former champions been taken in a single day before. In the two first round matches yesterday, George Voight, George Von Elm and "Doc" Willing, doughty trio, fell by the wayside and left the business of stopping Jones to a group of comparative unknowns. In addition to Voight, Von Elm and Willing, there were several others at Merion, who might have been counted upon to put up a battle against the Aalantan.

The contenders who remain in the upper bracket are Charley Seaver of Los Angeles, W. F. McPhail of Dedham, Mass., Eugene Romans of Englewood, N. J., and John Lehman of Chicago.

Seaver, through one of those unusual streaks of fortune which sometimes intrude upon his otherwise meticulous and mathematical pastime, has been outfielder warming up in the first half, and couldn't make up his mind just what to do. Had the game been called on account of darkness, the score would have reverted to the end of the eighth, and the Chicks, instead of winning, 5 to 4, would have lost, 4 to 3.

You probably have seen ball teams stalling for time. But according to advice from the New Orleans Pelicans, nothing like this ever occurred in baseball history. Before throwing a ball, the New Orleans pitcher conferred with the infielders, the outfielders, the bat boy and the groundkeeper. Then, just about when it seemed as if he would pitch, a leaf or misplaced blade of grass would be discovered near third base.

Volley and thunder. In the last half of the ninth, when Spike Shannon refused to Spike Shannon stood his ground. "This team has been stalling," said Spike, referring to the Pelicans, "and if they won't go on with the game, I'll just have to declare it forfeited to the Chicks." It seems that it had taken quite a spell to play that ninth inning. Larry Gilbert, manager of the Pels, had three pitchers and an

MERION CRICKET CLUB, Ardmore, Pa., Sept. 25.—(UP)—Bobby Jones had Fay Coleman of Culver City, Calif., as his opponent today in the third round of the national amateur golf tournament. Jones and Coleman teed off nearly half an hour late, and halved the first hole. Both went over par and took 5.

Coleman appeared to be nervous. He pulled his first tee shot into a trap. Jones drove straight down the middle. Coleman played a beautiful out, his ball stopping 40 feet from the pin. Jones stuck his second 20 feet from the hole. Both took three putts, Jones missing a two-footer.

At the second hole, 523 yards long, both Bobby and Fay had par fives and still were all square.

Both tee shots were on the line here. Coleman pitched into a shallow trap but he found the ball sitting up in the sand. Jones pitched short and ran up to within about 15 feet. Coleman chipped from the sand without difficulty. His ball was about as from from the cup as Bob's.

The Atlanta laid a difficult downhill putt, dead to the cup for his five, while Coleman missed a birdie by inches and was conceded a hole.

Jones Wins Third

Jones won the short third with a par three, and went one up. Bobby put his tee shot hole high on the front of the third green. Coleman landed in the rough.

The Californian dubbed his approach and went into a trap. His recovery left him 12 feet from the pin.

Jones putted and missed a birdie by two inches, tapping his short one for a three when Coleman conceded the hole.

Jones was one up. At the long 595 yard fourth, both Jones and Coleman dropped a stroke to par and halved the hole in 6s.

Their drives finished side by side, 280 yards down the middle of the fairway. Jones topped his brassie and the ball stopped only a few feet from the edge of the rough.

Coleman hit a long wood shot into the rough. Bobby pitched high and the ball flopped into a trap. Coleman's third was on the green, 45 feet shy of the pin.

Jones exploded out of the trap to within five feet of the cup. Coleman's approach putt rolled six feet past.

Both missed their next putts by a few inches and took sixes.

Birdie on Fifth

Bobby won the fifth with a birdie three and went two up. Coleman missed a six foot putt. Their drives at the fifth were straight, but not overlong. Jones' ball lay a dozen yards ahead of Coleman's. The latter stuck his approach up to within six feet of the cup.

Bob ran up his approach and the ball just missed the cup and stopped three feet beyond.

Coleman missed and Jones tapped his home for a birdie three.

SAINTS START GRID SEASON WITH 2 GAMES

Santa Ana high school's highly touted 1930 football team will make its initial appearance tomorrow afternoon on the local field in a double header gridfest with high schools of Tustin and Orange.

That the junior college Dons stole the opening thunder last Saturday by trouncing Chaffey takes a little glamor from the high school conflicts but old John J. Pan is still plenty interested in the Saints and will be sitting on the familiar green stands for the opening whistle at 2:15 p. m.

Oliver's starting combination is almost certain to include Captain Alvin Rehoin, Harold Pangle, Don Crumley and Allan Kidder in the backfield and that kiddo power quartet should be able to score more than once.

As for the forward wall, the holes are all picked with one exception. Dallas Reichstein and Addison Bowers will probably get the nod at guard but Garth Olsen might crowd in and little Leonard Lockhart, weighing only 118 pounds, filled a guard hole in yesterday's practice.

At ends, Floyd "Toy" Blower and Hideo Higashi are certain to start while big Bill Donahue and Glenn Minter will go in at tackles. Joe Preininger is the leading candidate for center but Miner Whitford and Roy Harvey will see action. Preininger was recently shifted over from tackle, but is proving adept at his new duties and capable of holding down the pivot job.

Second Team

Oliver's second string, all of which should see action in the Orange game, includes "Gib" Meisinger and James Daneri, ends; Bud Boyle and Lawrence Lutz, tackles; Dallas Reichstein and Garth Olsen, guards; Roy Harvey, center; Lynn Chamberlain, quarter; Clyde Birdsong and Fred Bell, halves; and Max Wilson, fullback. As for the Tustin game, Oliver will use all the rest of his large squad. Coach Cole's men have had their Monrovia last Saturday while the Orangepickers also played a game Saturday, trimming San Bernardino, 18 to 0.

BERKELEY, Sept. 25.—California's large football squad under the able direction of Coach "Nibs" Price was getting ready today for the battle next Saturday with the tough Bronco team from Santa Clara. While the Santa Clara may surprise everyone with the usual spectacle of a small team defeating a "big" conference team.

Tricky Hunters Gauge Births In Coyote Hunt

LOGAN, Utah, Sept. 25.—There's a trick to every trade. In coyote hunting the trick is to gauge correctly the day of the birth of coyote pups.

Logan hunters, with an eye on liberal bounties, are very careful not to kill the expectant mother coyotes. Rather do they keep a weather eye on their victims and wait until the litters appear.

Then it's merely a process of digging out. They find there's considerable difference in being reimbursed for one coyote and six or eight.

MACIAS EASILY DEFEATS WILLS AT WILMINGTON

Wildman Macias, Los Alamitos welter, went into the "big money" today.

His impressive defeat of Young Harry Wills, San Diego negro, at the Wilmington Bowl last night, immediately classed him with the best welters on the coast and so the small spots are probably a thing of the past for the well-built little Mexican, who has been the best drawing card of the local arena for nearly several months.

Never in danger and dealing out punishment in every round, Macias knocked Wills through the ropes four times and had him down in several others of their 10 round main event.

Joe Goedders, another Orange county product, whose drawing power here is not as good as it should be, but who is well liked in the harbor city, won his semi-windup fight at Wilmington last night with a technical knockout over Stuts Houk, who has a broken jaw by which to remember Goedders.

Santa Ana fans who went from here to the bowl last night and there were quite a number, saw Urban Hernandez in a reversal of form, get a draw with Mike Stanovich, asserted Arizona Champion. Mike won, but the referee couldn't see it that way. Hernandez looked stage frightened throughout the first part of the fight and didn't find himself until the last round.

Bat Battalino Is Beaten By Kaplan

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 25.—(UP)—Louis Kid Kaplan, former feather weight champion, defeated Christopher Bat Battalino, present 126 pound champion, in a 10 round non-title bout before a crowd of 15,000 here last night. Kaplan weighed 130 1-2, Battalino 128 1-2. Gov. Trumbull of Connecticut attended and made a short speech before the bout.

SHARKEY TILT WITH CAMPOLLO IN N. Y. TONIGHT

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.—(UP)—Jack Sharkey, of Boston, will attempt to notch his place in the front ranks of the heavyweight contenders for Max Schmeling's title when he meets Vittorio Campolpo of Argentina in a 15-round bout at Yankee stadium tonight.

Memory of Sharkey's two dismal failures against Phil Scott and Max Schmeling is still fresh in the minds of fight fans and tonight's match promises to be the biggest financial flop since the Tunney-Heeney bout in 1923.

With Sharkey guaranteed $100,000, Madison Square Garden will have to gross about $150,000 to break even on the bout. Campolpo is getting $7500, the rental promises to take about $15,000 and when the other odds and ends are added the total outlay may exceed $150,000.

The advance sale up to today had barely reached the $70,000 mark, and the Garden's last minute decision to allow the fight to be broadcast, selling this privilege for $15,000, was expected to keep away many more prospective customers. The prices are scaled from $2.10 to $15.75. The crowd is not expected to exceed 25,000.

Sharkey was a 3 to 1 favorite in the betting today, but the big Bostonian has blown so many chances in the past that quite a few critics believed Campolpo was no worse than an even shot.

GROVER ALEXANDER UP ON BOOZE CHARGE

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Sept. 25.—Grover Cleveland Alexander, pitching star released this season by the St. Louis Cardinals, faced a police judge today on liquor charges as a result of an automobile collision.

Alexander was booked for intoxication, reckless driving, speeding, illegal transportation of liquor, possession of liquor, fleeing from the scene of an accident, and failing to stop when ordered to do so by officers.

Motorcycle Officer M. G. Martin arrested Alexander after a six-mile chase.

PALO ALTO, Sept. 25.—Stanford supporters will have a chance next Saturday to find out if last week's victory over the West Coast Army was just a flash in the pan, when Coach Glenn "Pop" Warner sends the Cards against the San Francisco Olympic club, a group of former college stars.

OAKLAND, Sept. 25.—St. Mary's college will open its season here Sunday when it meets the West Coast Army team.

DYE WHIPS DON LINE IN SHAPE FOR S. C. BABES

(BY SKY DUNLAP)

There was nothing but praise today on the campus and football field of the Santa Ana Junior college for George Dye, new assistant coach under Bill Cook, for the way the giant Trojan center of 1929 stepped right in and started tutoring the Don linesmen yesterday.

Dye only got his appointment yesterday morning but was on hand bright and early for practice, attired in moleskins. What he didn't tell and show the Padre forwards wasn't worth mentioning, and "showing" was stating it mildly. Dye would get opposite two Dons and then send them flying when he put his 200 plus poundage into action.

While the former Alabama boy was taking charge of the center, guards, tackles and ends, Coach Cook was enabled to devote his full time to the backs. Sidestepping, blocking, passing and fundamentals were specialized on before he lined up teams and started hard scrimmaging.

Play Trojans

Both Cook and Dye will be fighting against their Alma Mater Saturday when the Dons entertain the University of Southern California freshman gridgers on Poly field but they would not be averse to whipping the Trojans. Touncing the Trojans is no mean task, however, for Aubrey Devine had far over 100 men to choose from, the pick of Southern California high schools.

Cook is still using a lot of men in practice but his first string selections are gradually sifting down. "Toby" Greenow, big rangy end from Orange, seems to have carved a notch for an end position with Hal Dunham, letterman, is playing on the other end, Harry Clayton is one tackle while Mike Santa Cruz and Harry Lake are practically equal for the other job. At guards, Kermit McCoy and Wayne Bartholomew appear to have an edge while Captain Kluthe is a cinch for center, with Curt McCoy as his alternate.

In the backfield, Wayne Garlock and Clarence Hapes are the offensive stars. Garlock with his galloping end runs and line plunges and Hapes with his battering-ram line plunges. Melvin Beatty and Franklin Van Meter compose one set of halfbacks while Elmore Lord is likely to horn in. Emmet Seacord is another corking good quarterback who will see plenty of service.

CHAMP IS PRESSED BY CALIFORNIAN

Bob lost the 442 yard sixth; Coleman took a par 4 to Jones 5 to reduce the Alantans' lead to one up.

Both drove well at the sixth. Coleman put his second 20 feet from the cup. Jones was some 35 feet over to the right of the pin. Bobby three-putted and took a 5. Coleman nearly sank his first putt for a birdie and had a 4. Jones went two up at the seventh, when he won with a par 4 to Coleman's five. This put Bob two up again.

Outdrives Coleman Jones outdrive Coleman at the seventh. Coleman pitched up to within 20 feet of the pin. Bob's second stopped 25 feet away.

Jones nearly ran down his long putt for a birdie and had an easy four. Coleman three-putted, blowing a two-footer. He was two down once more.

They halved the 350 yard eighth hole in par fours. Both drives were good at the eighth hole although Coleman's ball dug into the mud.

Coleman's approach was 4 feet off the pin. Jones played his second to within seven feet. Coleman laid bobby a stylike on the lip of the cup. Jones got his fourth and conceded Coleman's for a half. Jones still was two up.

At the ninth hole, Coleman put his tee shot well on to the green, within 25 feet of the cup.

Jones' ball hung in the rough of the bank at the edge of the green. He had a bad lie. Bob took a spade and pitched his ball to within four feet of the cup. Coleman's approach putt was dead and Jones missed his four-footer, taking a four to Coleman's three. At the turn Jones was one up.

call the game on account of darkness, the pop bottle barrage began. Players cleared the field of missiles. They had no sooner resumed their positions than another volley of the glass contain-ers was sent over by the partisan populace.

Spike Shannon came up with a knock on his head. Two of the Memphis players also were casualties, suffering flesh wounds. Spike himself was escorted off the field through the tunnel that leads from the visitors' dugout to the clubhouse in Pelicans' park.

There is a story about that tunnel, by the way. Judge Landis ordered it built last year after the citizenry had chased the Birmingham Barons off the premises. It seems New Orleans is hard on the visiting firemen.

Spike Shannon found himself in a tough spot. But you'll have to agree that by ordering that game forfeited he proved himself a game guy.

CITY QUIET AS LONDON ENJOYS BANK HOLIDAYS

LONDON, Sept. 25. — (UP)—

Bank holidays are gala occasions with all England on vacation. While the Londoners may not have any Fourth of July, Labor day, Thanksgiving day, or New Year's day, he does have his Boxing day, Easter and August Bank holidays, and he makes the most of them.

These days are even more rushing and gay if they come on Friday, Monday or Tuesday, since a long week end results. The recent August Bank holiday, is an example of the spirit which prevails.

Four million Londoners packed up their sunshades and mackintoshes (English for slickers or raincoats), and descended on resorts like a thundering herd. With their rapid exit, London was left like a city almost forgotten. Buses rattled over empty streets, subways completed entire journeys with only a handful of passengers, eating houses closed their doors, business firms exhibited locked doors, even afternoon newspapers did not appear as alert as usual.

Piccadilly, except for the three old flower women and the odd shoe-shining fraternity, was dead during the day. At night people came to attend theatres or cinema houses, but the usual seven, eight and nine o'clock crushes were not there.

The 4,000,000 got away somewhere, even if only to the outskirts of Greater London. Roads, rails, waterways, air and by-paths were alive with Bank holiday pleasure seekers.

Some idea of how London citizens slip away from narrow, crowded streets to the countryside, beach resorts and the Continent can be gained by the special accommodations provided by railroads, motor bus lines, tram lines, shipping lines and airways: 25,000 extra trains were run.

15,000 holiday-makers left Euston and St. Pancras before noon of the first day of the week-end. 95,000 left Paddington.

All main line trains were run in triplicate.

Fifty automobiles were taken to Scotland by rail.

Half a million meals were served on trains throughout the country on Saturday.

Trains from King's Cross ran in duplicate and triplicate. Five additional Continental trains ran from Liverpool street station, 23 additional trains left King's Cross, 12 of which went to Scotland.

Every available motor coach in London, Glasgow, Newcastle, Leeds, Bradford, Sheffield, Manchester, Liverpool, Edinburgh, Nottingham, Leicester and other large cities was called into use.

On Bank Holiday, 160 tramcars an hour were run to Hampstead Heath and Ken Wood. There was a service of 246 tramcars an hour to the Zoo.

Bookings for the air liners on Imperial Airways cross-Channel services were booked days in advance and an augmented service was added.

On the Tilbury to Dukirk route to the Continent bookings were so heavy that three boats had to be added. Extra boats were also run on the Holyhead to Dublin service.

Lakeland and seaside hotels were swamped with bookings and desired reservations.

Tents dotted the valleys and hillsides until followers of history wondered if another Norman conquest was sweeping over England and Scotland.

Londoners, no matter where they went, were all searching for one thing—sunshine. Even if they did not find it the restful quietness of the country and the bracing, invigorating air of the seaside proved welcome substitutes.

Swimming, fishing, walking, tennis, golf, cricket, bowls, canoeing, yachting, riding and hunting all found ardent devotees. Now that the August Bank Holiday is over, London is once again the busy, humming city of men and women bent on furthering British business and regaining for London the position she once occupied, that of being the most important city in the world.

1930 IS REWARDING CAREFUL SAVERS

Distinctive Measures of Protection..

Pacific States Savings' 70 thousand savings customers take natural gratification in the fact that they are dealing with the largest building and loan association in the Nation. But their choice of this institution is based upon reasons more fundamental than size.

They know that for more than 41 years, during both prosperous times and periods of national stress, this institution has demonstrated consistent strength, conservatism and liquidity.

Of even more importance, they find here distinctive measures of protection that their sense of prudence demands—such measures as these:

—the largest non-withdrawable invested capital and the largest voluntary cash and bond reserves of any building and loan association in the West... a Statement of Condition free from furniture and fixtures, real estate and bank indebtedness... the added safety inherent in our loaning rate of 7% which brings to us the choicest first lien collateral being offered to any California building and loan association.

On the basis of our past record and present standing we solicit your consideration of our 6% and 5½% facilities for savings.

CHINESE LIKE TRACTORS FOR ROAD BUILDING

PIPING, Sept. 25.—(UP)—Great possibilities of American caterpillar tractors in making good roads in China have been demonstrated by American engineers on the high way between Peking and Tientsin, and the provincial authorities have agreed to finance construction of a first-class highway between these two cities of 1,000,000 population each.

The demonstration was arranged by A. Bland Calder, assistant commercial attache of the American legation.

For a year past, Calder has talked with provincial officials, pointing out the advantages of having a good highway between Peking and Tientsin, upon which automobiles may run smoothly and quickly. The distance is about 80 miles, but there never has been a real motor highway built.

So much money has been needed for civil wars that provincial authorities were hesitant to act, but the demonstration was so effective that they now have agreed to start work at once. Calder also is seeking to remove the exorbitant octroi tax, a relic of the Middle Ages, by which an automobile is charged about $75 dollar to come from Tientsin to Peking.

With a real highway built, it is believed that 400 or 500 cars will make the trip from Tientsin to Peking weekly, and that tourists will prefer the motor trip to the train.

It will pay you to have your teeth examined regularly. Nine persons out of ten are unaware of the condition of their teeth. So long as they don't ache, they are content to leave them alone. That is a very poor policy and one that will eventually lead to more serious trouble and greater expense.

Disabled Veterans Name New County Wide Committee

APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED IN MEETING HERE

At last night's business session of the Jack Fisher chapter, Disabled American Veterans of the World War, it was decided to inaugurate a new executive committee to represent each town in the county in which members are located.

The following committeemen have been named: B. L. Chittenden, representing Huntington Beach; C. O. David, Capistrano Beach; A. E. Pellegrin, Anaheim; David R. Day, Fullerton; C. A. Spurrer, Tustin, and Glen D. Watkins, Laguna Beach. Selection of members from other cities will be made in the near future.

The Long Beach chapter, D. A. V., announced that one of the biggest meetings of this organization will be held at the Long Beach municipal auditorium on October 3. For that reason Commander H. O. Rasmussen is making arrangements to transport some 50 local members to the beach city to make a creditable showing amongst the visiting chapters.

At last Monday's meeting of the Quentin Roosevelt D. A. V. chapter, the Jack Fisher chapter made an especially good showing. A feature of the evening was the presentation to the Los Angeles auxiliary unit of a box of oranges which they delivered to the disabled men in the hospitals at Sawtelle and San Fernando on their next visit. Chaplain A. H. Jones made the presentation.

Members of the local auxiliary surprised the chapter with a very delectable luncheon last night. Immediately following this all present retired to the Ritz indoor golf course, where Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Froehlich staged a friendly competition, the prize winners being Mrs. Marie Wolters and Harry D. Edwards.

'SKY SCRAPERS' AT COLLEGE TO FORM SOCIETY

You know, when it comes to raising things, the Santa Ana Junior college is surely right in the front row every time.

For instance, it raised the enrollment over 150 students more than last year. And it raised a championship football team last season. And now, it has raised 43 men of the college to a height of over six feet and these 43 boys have formed another Society of Longfellow which proved so unique and amusing last year.

That over 40 men out of less than 300 are over six feet tall is surprising to the college, so the Longfellow have banded together again and held the first meeting of the year yesterday at the college. Another meeting will be held next Wednesday at 7 p. m. at the college, at which time officers will be elected and future plans discussed.

The first object of business will be another resolution to the city council asking that the awnings in the business district be raised to conform to the city ordinance of seven feet clearance. Last year, the club made a survey and found 32 out of 33 awnings on a certain portion of West Fourth street were far below the limit. As a result, over 60 merchants hoisted the sunshades.

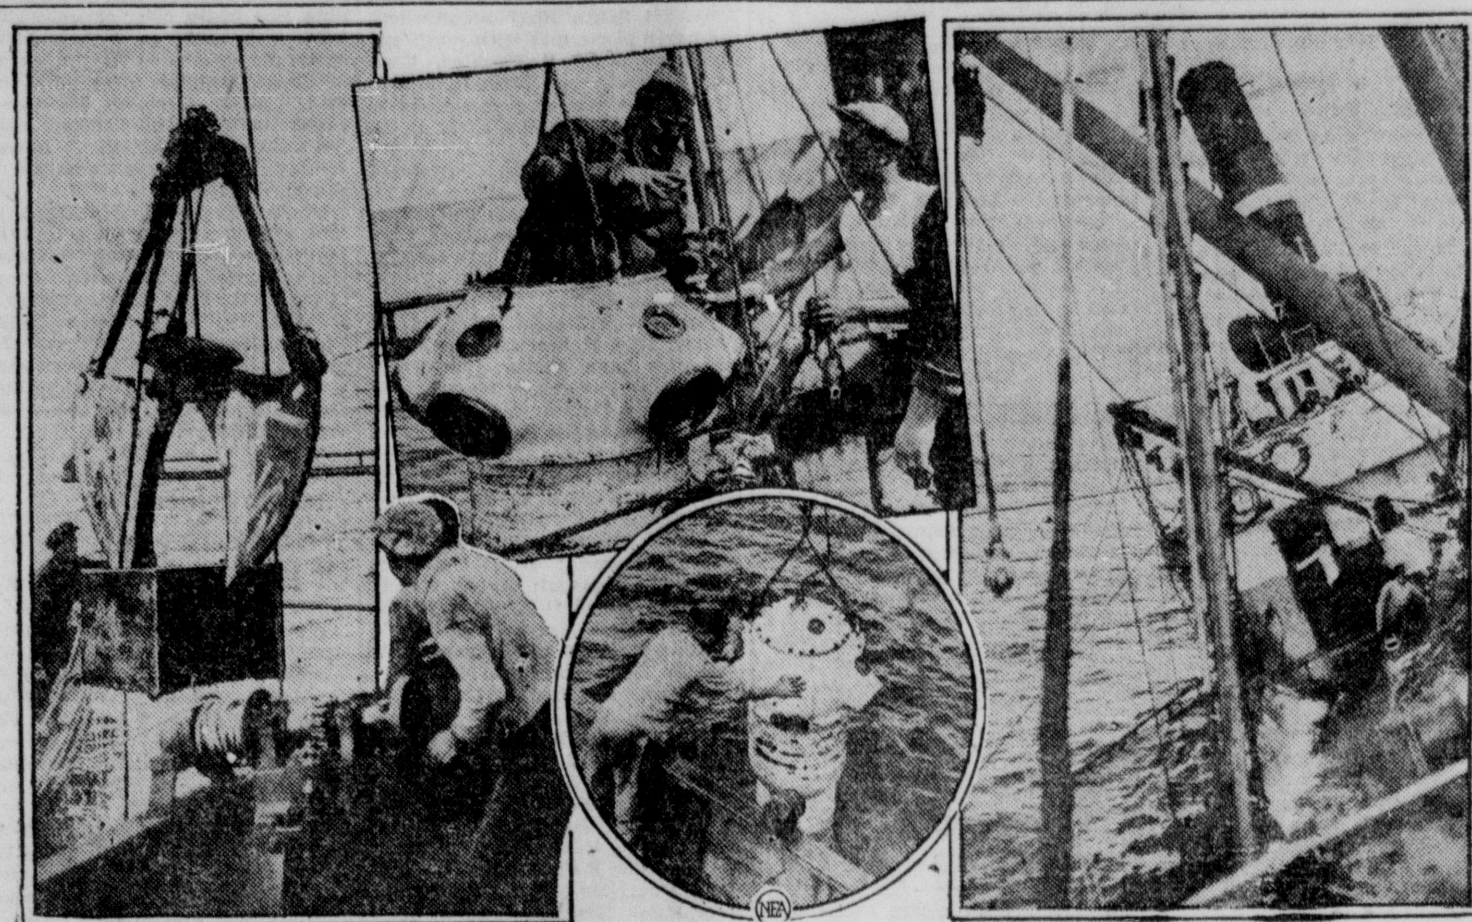

The club also may ask the council to investigate low hanging limbs along the sidewalks, which are dangerous to pedestrians.

The Longfellow have been granted permission to stage another feminine fashion show in assembly, which was such a success last year. Over 20 members already have signified their willingness to don dresses for the occasion. The club also will play off a golf challenge with the faculty. The instructors were downed in basketball by the six footers but several expert golfers on the faculty may beat the Longfellow at that sport.

M. V. Newcomer, the shortest man on the faculty, will continue as faculty advisor, while John "Sky" Dunlap, six feet seven inches tall, and the tallest man in school, is reorganizing the club. Men who have signed up for membership include Al Kluthe, Ed Meador, "Swede" Whisler, Art Jacques, Harry Clayton, Manfred Mueller, Charles Waters, Jack McPadden, Fritz Wakeham, Henry Lange, Elwood Lindley, Eldon

GLANCES AT GREATEST TREASURE HUNT

Anxious moments in the struggle to salvage $5,000,000 in gold from the hull of the sunken steamer Egypt under the Bay of Biscay are shown below. At the left grapnel tongs are bringing up the captain's safe, in which was locked the key to the exact location of the treasure. The center photos show how the divers work in heavy observation shells with glass portholes. Below a shell is being hauled aboard and above Chief Diver Alberto Gianni, of the salvage ship Artiglio, is emerging with the latest news of the hunt. At the right the Artiglio is listing at a 25 degree angle as her derricks strained to remove sections of the Egypt previously loosened with dynamite bombs. In an effort to salvage all the bullion, which is believed to have burst its water soaked packing boxes, salvage operators have decided to tear away the upper part of the vessel and remove the bullion room intact. The Egypt went down after a collision in May, 1922.

COOK AND WOMAN PAL JAILED AFTER CAR GOES INTO DITCH

Everett G. Tibbets, 27, cook, 601 West Second street, Santa Ana, and a woman companion, a waitress employed in a local cafe, were arrested last night by Captain Robert Elliott and Officer A. T. Holmes of the local police department and lodged in the county jail.

The alleged condition of the couple was brought to Captain Elliott's attention when the car in which they were riding went into a ditch at the intersection of Seventeenth and Bristol streets, according to the arresting officers.

Begins Reckless Driving Sentence

Austin B. Garritt, 29, steel electrician, 4142 Third avenue, Los Angeles, charged with reckless driving, yesterday entered the county jail to serve a sentence imposed by a Fullerton court. Garritt was sentenced to pay a fine of $150, or to spend 75 days in the county jail.

Different lessons will include various art principles, color theory, floor coverings, indoor treatment, wall papers, period furniture, etc.

There will be no tuition charges, although a small fee will be asked for the use of text books, and will be refunded at the close of the term.

DRIVING DRUNK CHARGE UP HELD AGAINST STARK

Indicative of a growing demand for more severe treatment of drunken drivers who are endangering life and property on public highways was a verdict of guilty, accompanied by a recommendation that the defendant be given a jail sentence, which was returned last night by a jury in the court of Superior Judge G. K. Seovel against Tom Stark, 55, fumigator, 1601 West Third street, charged with driving an automobile while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

According to the records in the case, Stark was arrested August 15 at San Juan Capistrano by State Motor Officer Joe Clever, after the condition of the accused had been reported to him by a forest ranger who encountered Stark on the San Juan Hot springs road. The case was given to the jury at 4 p. m. after deliberations that lasted until 7:45 p. m. the jury brought in the verdict.

Blaine Cox, son of the late Judge J. B. Cox, of local fame, who was with Stark at the time of the arrest, appeared as witness for the defense. On the witness stand Cox admitted that he and Stark had imbibed a small quantity of bay rum. The prosecution was handled by Deputy District Attorney Preston Turner and the defense by Attorney Morris Cain. The convicted man will be sentenced Friday morning, it was announced.

American automobiles are being used by the government of Hejaz, Arabia.

Bridge Playing Group Resumes Its Regular Party Schedule

After a summer in which no special attempt was made to hold their enjoyable meetings regularly because of the absence of so many members from time to time, the little group of the city's most prominent matrons comprising the S. O. S. club on Tuesday assembled in the pleasant home of Mrs. Edward M. Nealey to enjoy the first autumn luncheon and afternoon bridge.

The large drawing room with its "bookish" atmosphere, is a delightful meeting place for its guest group and was made doubly attractive for this occasion by the many flowers used by Mrs. Nealey, who selected the more delicate colors of the wealth of autumn blooms at her disposal. Each small luncheon table bore its low bowl of asters in mingling hues, adding interest to the daintily served menu.

In the afternoon bridge session, Mrs. Nealey's carefully selected prizes were secured by Mrs. A. M. Gardner, scoring high, and Mrs. Wyckoff Hoxie, low.

S. O. S. members present in addition to the hostess were Mrs. J. P. Baumgartner, Mrs. A. M. Gardner, Mrs. John E. Gowen, Mrs. Roy Hall, Mrs. Wyckoff Hoxie, Mrs. E. E. Keech, Mrs. James E. Paul, Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh and Mrs. Terry Stephenson, while two special guests, Mrs. N. A. Beals and Mrs. James E. Liebig, shared the hospitality, completing the usual three tables.

Gaylords Presented Brotherhood Program

Featuring two very interesting speakers, the Rev. and Mrs. Edward Gaylord of Los Angeles, was the meeting of the Brotherhood of the First Congregational church held in the dining hall of the building. The affair began with a 6:30 o'clock dinner served at tables prettily decorated with a variety of brilliant-hued fall flowers.

C. S. Crookshank, president of the Brotherhood, was in charge of the program of the evening. Mrs. Gaylord gave a most interesting talk on China, while Mr. Gaylord's discussion centered on his impressions of Japan.

Farewell Party Was Lovely Event For Mrs. A. L. Ham

When Mrs. A. L. Ham leaves this evening for her home in Breckenridge, Texas, following a year's visit in the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Wood, 1110 South Parton street, she will take with her memories of a most delightful farewell party which was an event of Tuesday evening in her daughter's home. At an early hour a group of friends gathered in the home, eager to make this final courtesy to Mrs. Ham a delightful one.

Dahlias in a variety of brilliant hues formed a colorful setting for the affair, and had been presented the honor early in the day as a farewell gift. Conversation and games occupied the hours which were climaxed when two little maids, the Misses Evelyn Snipes and Betty Jane Herrin, entered the room bearing an array of prettily wrapped packages for Mrs. Ham. An appetizing refreshment course concluded the memorable evening.

Those sharing the affair with Mrs. Ham and children, Imogene, Paul, Pat and Edward, and the honoree, Mrs. Ham, were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Brown and children, Billie, Jack and Bob, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Herrin and children, James and Betty Jane, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Mosley, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Birdsong, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Snipes and children, Neal, Juanita and Evelyn.

Striking Motif Was Feature of Legion Auxiliary Party

Surpassing all anticipations of a delightful party was the American Legion auxiliary affair held in the Legion hall last night, when Mrs. C. W. Nussbaumer and her corps of ambitious helpers put over one of the most successful events of its kind. A gorgeous array of zinnias in brilliant autumn hues formed a background for the striking black and silver appointments of the evening.

When tallies were checked on the futuristic tallies, Mrs. Gladys Lieberman was awarded a unique sugar and cream set embodying the chosen black and silver motif. Miss Mary Smart was consoled with a smaller set of the same type. Men's high score was held by Ray Sidon who was presented a handkerchief and tie set, while Elmer Christenson was consoled with a desirable pair of silk hose. The gift assortment first introduced the striking color scheme in the black tissue wrappings tied with silver ribbons.

During the refreshment hour tables were centered with low black pots filled with snow zinnias. Mrs. F. C. Hill was in charge of this phase of the evening.

A neat sum to be used for welfare work was realized from the affair, as 30 tables of cards were in session. To Mrs. C. S. Nussbaumer, retiring chairman of the ways and committees, is attributed much of the credit for the success of the affair. Throughout the year she has been responsible for delightfully original plans being carried out at each of the social functions, and with this, her last affair, she has achieved added distinction as a capable ways and means committee chairman.

Jaycee Men to Have New Service Club

In the process of formation for the past several weeks, a new men's service club for Santa Ana Junior college has been definitely announced by student officials, and sanction of the college executive board was granted at the last meeting.

According to Lawson Watkins, one of the chief promoters of the new organization, there are too many men students to be considered for the ranks of the two service clubs now existing, the Brotherhood of Bachelors and the Junior Lions. This new club will be similar to the other groups and will have H. A. Scott as faculty advisor.

No name has been announced as yet by Jack Crawford, who is in charge of the name committee. Frank Mansur is drawing up a constitution and meetings will be scheduled in the near future. Charter members will be Lawson Watkins, Jack Crawford, Eldon Bragg, Calvin Stillwell, Roy Arms, Frank Mansur, Cardwell Oglesby and Ed Kilbourne.

The new club acted in its first official capacity last Saturday when it policed the football game with Chaffey Junior college.

Relief Corps

Members of the Woman's Relief Corps paid tribute to the comrades of Sedgwick Post G. A. R. yesterday morning when they opened their meeting with songs of the old camping days. Mrs. Estelle Grey directed the community singing and accompanied at the piano. Adjoining to the dining hall, members found tables beautifully decorated with hand-made flowers and favors, to work of Mrs. Elizabeth Birkhead. Pink and orchid was the chosen color scheme.

Steaming platters of chicken formed the chief dish of the first course. A delectable feature of the menu was the birthday cake decorated in pink, white and green, honoring the birthdays of Mrs. Birkhead and Mrs. Grey. About 150 enjoyed the luncheon course.

A meeting at 2 o'clock in the afternoon followed, and approximately 50 members, three comrades and one visitor were present. There was one application for membership. Reports of the various committees showed that 87 calls on sick have been made in the past month, and that 16 bouquets and baskets of fruit have been taken to the sick and shut-in. Child welfare committee reported an expenditure of $9 while the relief committee stated that they have spent $42.50 for relief and clothing in the past month.

An invitation to meet with Federation No. 5 at Ocean Park in the near future was accepted. It was also announced that the W. R. C. Service club will meet with the president, Mrs. Ida Millen, October 2. Mrs. Millen will entertain officers of the association the following day, October 3.

Guild Members Enjoy Tales of Travel

"Welcome home" was cordially expressed yesterday afternoon when Guild members of the Church of the Messiah held a post-vacation meeting in the hospitable home of Mrs. W. C. Young, 1206 North Broadway with special emphasis given to greetings extended those who had enjoyed special trips and outings during the summer.

Many were the informal accounts of summer travels, but that given by Miss Lu Pomeroy of her European experiences, was perhaps of outstanding interest, as she told of visiting the Passion Play at Oberammergau, travels in various continental countries, etc. One of her pleasantest experiences was unexpectedly meeting Bishop Stevens in London, where he was in attendance at the Lambeth conference.

Members were happy to hear from one of their past presidents, Mrs. E. P. Museus, who left some two months ago for an extended visit in her former home, St. Johns, New Brunswick.

Following the informal travel talks, the Rev. Mr. Hatter, rector of the church, introduced several matters to be considered by the Guild women at their first business meeting Wednesday afternoon, October 1.

Mrs. George Licht was chairman of the hostess committee which aided Mrs. Young in serving the variety of appetizing sandwiches, home-made cake and tea which added to the festive nature of the afternoon. Other members of this committee were Mrs. E. V. S. Pomeroy, Mrs. Ethel Hart, Mrs. B. F. White, Mrs. William Whitehead and Miss Lucy Pomeroy.

Presbyterian Social Program Presents Varied Events

Instituting an active social program in Sunday school and Christian Endeavor groups, workers in the First Presbyterian church and Sunday school will find their activities in a fall rally campaign climaxed on Sunday morning, September 27, with the Rally day program to be given at 9:30 o'clock in the main auditorium of the church.

Tonight the Pro Bono class of men and women will have a supper at 6:30 o'clock in the church dining room. Tomorrow night the Berean Bible class, another adult group of the Sunday school, will dine at Irvine park, with 6:30 set as the dinner hour.

Two different Christian Endeavor groups have also reserved Friday night for social affairs. Junior high school members will meet at 7:30 o'clock in the home of Hugh Walker on Prospect avenue. T. Gray Johnston is advisor for this group. At the same hour the young people's C. E. society, of which R. Carson Smith is advisor, will be entertained in the home of Miss Dorothy Dunbar, 1235 South Parton street.

At the 11 o'clock church service which will follow the Rally day program Sunday morning, Vera Shaver Osborne, soprano, of Portland, Ore., will be presented as guest soloist during the musical prelude to the sermon by the Rev. O. Scott McFarland.

Mountain Week-end Had Disturbing Finale

Verging on extreme seriousness were the farewells depressed last Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lazenby, when a party of week end guests in their San Bernardino mountain home, started on the return trip to this city. For as Mrs. Lazenby started forward to wave a final farewell to the departing guests, she was in the very act of stepping on a large rattlesnake, coiled directly in her path. Only Mrs. Lazenby's keen sight and prompt action in suddenly jerking her aside, saved her from the almost certain fate of being struck by the deadly reptile.

The Lazenbys left for their mountain home some time ago, planning to remain there for six months for the benefit of Mr. Lazenby's health. Many friends are enjoying their hospitality, and the party whose departure Sunday evening was marked by so dramatic an event, was made up of the Misses Ethel and Esther Coffman and Dorothy Hurd, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Theal and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Freeman.

This group of lively young people, more popularly known on the campus as the O. K. club, is made up of students whose homes are elsewhere than Santa Ana. The club met last night in the home of Miss Helen King, 531 South Birch street where the party plans met with much enthusiasm. Mitchell Hookins, Kenneth Eastman and Miss Elmaclaire Hymer were named a committee to select a place for the party to be held.

Mrs. Thompson Was S. O. A. Hostess Yesterday

Members of the S. O. A. club who met yesterday afternoon in the home of Mrs. D. H. Thompson, 1109 Kilson Drive, enjoyed a delightful prelude to their session of bridge, for ready for their approval was a delectable chicken luncheon. The large table was centered with a mixed bouquet combining asters and other delicate-hued blossoms. Following the luncheon hour the usual games of bridge were played, and when scores were tallied it was discovered that Mrs. George Merriam held high, Mrs. C. A. Sisson, second, and Mrs. Daisy McGee, low.

Those sharing the pleasant affair with Mrs. Thompson were Mesdames Daisy McGee, Leland Ewbank, C. A. Sisson, W. F. Batt, F. W. Higgins, George Merriam and B. H. Bauman.

Sneaking Up On A Man's Blind Side.

The ancients' idea that man's soul was in his stomach was not so far wrong after all.

Every wife knows that when she wants something she is not exactly sure of getting, she can sneak up on her husband's blind side by first feeding him some of his favorite foods, with a smoke and a leisurely perusal of the paper to follow.

When he comes out from under these ministrations Samson was never more at the mercies of Delilah! I believe that every housewife should appreciate the opportunities that lie to her hand in making a home. It is a great profession and has so many sides to it that the woman with various longings to "express her artistic side" can find a thousand outlets right in her own home. Don't cook blindly. Cook with intelligence in putting food together so that it is food when ready for the table. Experiment with the simple and compound flavors possible right on your condiment shelf. Serve the simple, well cooked meal on crisp attractive cloth and have a few flowers or something green to dress the table.

After you have achieved this housekeeping perfection don't spoil it by retelling the day's small catastrophes to your tired man. If you can't discuss something of interest in a pleasant manner, keep quiet or better still, get him started on his favorite topic and chime in with an interested yes or no often enough to make him believe he is an authority of the subject. Most men are children and the wife who is wise to this fact can just wind her husband round her little finger and make him like it.

If baby has COLIC

A CRY in the night. Colic! No cause for alarm if Castoria is handy. This pure vegetable preparation brings quick comfort, and can never harm. It is the sensible thing when children are ailing. Whether it's the stomach, or the little bowels; colic or constipation; or diarrhea. When tiny tongues are coated, or the breath is bad. Whenever there's need of gentle regulation. Children love the taste of Castoria, and its mildness makes it safe for frequent use.

And a more liberal dose of Castoria is always better for growing children than strong medicine meant only for adult use.

"LITTLE ACCIDENT" OPENS HERE TODAY

Striking a new high note for film entertainment, "Little Accident," Universal's brilliant comedy-drama, opens at the Fox West Coast theater today.

"Little Accident" is a triumph of hilarity and amusement. It grips the interest of an audience from the opening shot and holds it unflinchingly until the final fadeout. It is literally truthful to describe it as a continuous gale of laughter.

The picture is flawless both as to acting and technique. Half a dozen pictures could have been provided with stars from the distinguished cast for this one production. Douglas Fairbanks Jr., Anita Page, Slim Summerville, Sally Blane and Zazu Pitts are among those featured.

The plot of "Little Accident" is unique and original, splendidly lending itself to screen comedy. A young man, on the eve of his scheduled wedding, suddenly learns that he has become a father. In a flash, his existence becomes a nightmare of complications. Torn between conflicting demands of the affections, he finds himself with a baby on his hands, and three girls in the situation of prospective wives.

"Little Accident" is rich in amusing situations and brilliantly entertaining dialogue. A great share of praise for its quality belongs to William James Craft, who directed.

Craft, who has directed some of Universal's most successful comedies, has set a new mark for this art.

The film is based on the famous stage play of the same name by Thomas Mitchell and Floyd Dell. It was produced under the supervision of Albert DeMond, Universal associate producer, Gene Towne wrote the adaptation, and Gladys Lehman the screen play.

GREAT ANIMAL FILM OF NORTH COMING TO S. A.

"The Silent Enemy," Paramount production, a picture the like of which has never been duplicated, comes to the Fox West Coast theater Saturday and Sunday.

It is an epic of the American Indian, made in the wilds of Northern Ontario, and for a thriller, is said to surpass Chang and other wild animal pictures that have been brought here from Africa.

"The Silent Enemy" is not a wild animal picture. It has moving drama, a love story, and it is acted by the people of that country, all Indians. It is a living record of a dying race and it is authentic.

There are many wild animals pictured in the film. Many battles between two different kind of wild animals, to the death. There is a battle between a caribou and a man for life, and the animal pictures are taken in such a way that they have been brought to Santa Ana.

There are no double exposure or trick photography in "The Silent Enemy," although this will be hard to believe after the picture has been seen. Everything you see on the screen actually took place. There is one scene where a pack of wolves chase a moose that will be remembered for a long time. There is a scene where an Indian and a moose fight "hand in hand," so to speak and the moose is killed with a spear.

All this actually took place. At the same time there is drama and romance in the film which will appeal to any audience. "The Silent Enemy" is great entertainment because it is different, because it has in it the things that

Late News From Orange County Communities

NIGHT SCHOOL CLASSES OPEN IN FULLERTON

FULLERTON, Sept. 25.—Night school registration will be held at the study hall of the Fullerton union high school and junior college tonight, and for those who cannot come Thursday, registration can be made on Monday evening, though if possible all should register on Thursday evening, as it is planned to hold classes on Monday evenings.

The offerings this year are more complete than ever before. The courses that have been given in the past will be repeated and in addition there will be special classes in music.

Glenn Lewis will conduct a course in choruses. He states that singers who live in the Fullerton union high school district, or adjacent territory, and are particularly members of choir and those interested in the oratorio, are asked to attend. The night school will offer this year an opportunity for the formation of a community chorus to study and present certain oratorios. Registration for all night school work in this course will take place at the high school study hall as do all other courses.

In addition to the chorus work, instruction in band and stringed instruments will be offered. There will be no individual instruction, but the usual band and orchestra work will be conducted if registration justifies.

Those wishing self-analysis work, either as a continuation of last year's class or as a new organization, will help by notifying others interested that the course will be given if there can be found enough who desire the work.

Those who are interested in night school work should be on hand promptly at 7 o'clock. At that time general and particular information will be given as to courses. As a general principle, classes will only be organized if there are 15 or more registering. This does not apply to laboratory courses, or in the class for English for foreigners. Classes will be offered in both high school and college subjects and for those wishing credits, for transfer to other institutions such a record will be kept and transcript furnished, the night school work being evaluated in terms of day school credits.

FISH PACKING PLANT TO OPEN IN SHORT TIME

NEWPORT-BALBOA, Sept. 25.—The Newport Fish Packing corporation will soon be operating again at Twenty-eighth street, on the bay at Newport, according to W. I. Turk, who told of progress of the new concern at the meeting of the Newport Beach Exchange club yesterday.

Of the $6500 needed to open the cannery again, more than $4500 has actually been paid in, mostly by Newport Beach business men, and the rest is in sight. Turk stated that Stuart H. Lucas, one of the subscribers to the company's stock, had promised to take care of the remainder if $5500 or more could be collected from other subscribers.

The subscriptions are all in $100 lots so far, and not more than $100 is desired from any one subscriber, the object being to get as many harbor district men and women interested as possible. Lucas, it was revealed today, had been the first to suggest subscriptions of $100 from a large number instead of larger subscriptions from a smaller number, as at first proposed.

When the cannery ran last year under a partnership agreement between Turk, B. O. Nicholson and Myrtle Pickens, nearly 100 fishermen were busy bringing in catches to the cannery daily, and often more than that number were employed in the cannery itself.

A disagreement between the partners, it was said, was the cause of the closing down of the cannery at that time, but already a reputation had been built up for the Newport Beach brand of mackerel, large or several foreign countries for the fish. Each fish packed was caught by hook and line, and it was claimed that this was the only packing house in the country using only that kind of fish, improving the quality.

It is planned to continue that policy when the cannery re-opens and to pack tuna and sardines, as well as mackerel.

ALL-YEAR RESIDENTS FOR NEWPORT BEACH SOUGHT BY EXCHANGE CLUB MEMBERS

NEWPORT-BALBOA, Sept. 25.—Although this community had made more progress than ever this season, as shown by building permits, school attendance, electric light, telephone and other utility figures, the community leaders are not content to rest on their oars and went to make still more progress.

Following a meeting of directors of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce Tuesday, the Exchange club yesterday devoted some time to the question of attracting all-year residents here. Dr. F. C. Ferry, president of the chamber of commerce and a member of the high school board and of the Exchange club, pointed out that the new high school was one reason why more people were residing here all the year than formerly. A better class of buildings had also been the rule in recent years.

A special committee of the chamber of commerce is to meet some time in the near future to discuss the situation and endeavor to work out definite plans.

The Beach Exchanges will be out in force tomorrow night to play the Santa Ana Exchange club miniature golfers at the new inside links built in the former Newport dance hall by Lloyd Claire and Lyman Boomer. This will be the opening event at the El Patio, as the new course is to be called.

Mrs. Walter Ross, who has served as president of the Central P.-T. A. for the past three years, gave a short talk in which she told what the organization has meant to her. Later, Mrs. Ross was presented with a lovely gift as a token of appreciation of her work.

CHURCH RADIO BROADCAST TO START OCT. 2

OLIVE, Sept. 25.—Word was received today by the Rev. E. H. Kreidt of St. Paul's Lutheran church that beginning October 2 the Missouri synod Lutheran church will be represented on the air by a weekly half-hour at 7 o'clock, Pacific standard time, every Thursday night over the Columbia network. Thirty-four stations in a coast-to-coast hook-up are to be used. The project is being financed by the Lutheran Layman's league and the International Walthers league for the Lutheran Synodical Conference of North America. The broadcast will be known as the Lutheran hour.

The first broadcast will feature the Cleveland Bach chorus under the direction of F. W. Strietner from WHK, Cleveland, Ohio. The musical portions of later programs will be presented by the Chicago Bach chorus, Siegfried Prager, of Madison, Wis., director, Edward Rechlin, organist of Immanuel church, New York, and noted interpreter of Bach organ music, and the Concordia Seminary chorus of St. Louis, Mo., directed by Dean Walthers. The broadcast will be known as the Lutheran hour.

The initial series of sermons will be delivered by Dr. Walthers A. Meier, of St. Louis. Dr. Meier is professor of Old Testament interpretation at Concordia Theological seminary, St. Louis, and editor of "The Walthers League Messenger," official youth organ of the Lutheran church.

"The Lutheran church is the first denomination to use a paid nationwide network to proclaim its message," said the Rev. Mr. Kreidt in commenting on the project, "just as it was one of the first churches to own its own denominational broadcasting station six years ago. People tuning in on the Lutheran hour will enjoy a rare treat, as both the speaker and the musical organizations have gained for themselves a wide and enviable reputation. The nearest station in this area is KJL in Los Angeles."

TIBET SUBJECT AT SESSION IN ORANGE CHURCH

ORANGE, Sept. 25.—Miss Doris Shelton, daughter of Dr. Shelton, a missionary in Tibet, spoke on Tibet at the prayer meeting at the Christian church last night.

Miss Shelton said in part: "Let us take an imaginary trip to Tibet, the top of the world. We will cross the waters taking two weeks. At Yanksten, we will take a steamer and continue three days up the river, then three days on a railroad put in by the French government, taking your own bedding and food as the train stops at night for you to spread out your blankets upon the wayside, then a three days journey on a mule or horse. The mule is preferable as he is more sure-footed. Now you are in Tibet. It takes 50 days over mountaintops and down in the valleys to reach Batang, where the mission is situated, 9000 feet above sea level. It is the lowest spot in Tibet and the highest is Mt. Everest, 29,000 feet, the highest mountain in the world."

"The natives are there to welcome you. You ask if they knew you were coming. They had not been told but they sensed your coming. Your reception will be according to your sincerity and the color of your heart. We paint our own hearts. Some are white, some are black, and others are streaked. We do our own painting and these heathen know the color of your heart. In three or four minutes, you will know if these heathen love you or hate you. If they love you, they will meet you with outstretched hands and if they do not, they will walk away from you."

"We should not think of these natives as Chinese. They are of the Aryan race with Arabian blood in their veins. The children study out loud in their schools. "The homes are all friendly. You are asked to eat at all times. They share all they have. Happiness comes from true sharing. You always carry a bowl with a silver lining in the folds of your dress in Tibet. Butter tea is served six or eight times a day. Butter, salt and tea are churned together and poured into the bowl. You know the wealth of the host by the amount of butter in the tea. If he is poor there is only a small amount of butter in the tea."

You have to go five or six miles for a bath, so the natives do not take many baths. They take a day off and go to the hot springs and then cover themselves again with grease all over. They have the same pain, sorrow, joy, and happiness that we have. Unselfishness, sharing, happiness, and giving of one's self meets with the same response from those heathen as here with us."

WHEN A CHILD IS FEVERISH, CROSS, UPSET

Colic, gas, sour belching, frequent vomiting, feverishness in babies and children, generally show food is souring in the little digestive tract.

When these symptoms appear, give Baby a teaspoonful of Phillips Milk of Magnesia. Add it to the first bottle of food in the morning. Older children should be given a tablespoonful in a glass of water. This will comfort the child—make his stomach and bowels easy. In five minutes he is comfortable, happy. It will sweep the bowels free of all sour, indigestible food. It opens the bowels in constipation, colds, children's colic. Children take it readily because it is palatable, pleasant-tasting.

Learn its many uses for mother and child. Write for the interesting book, "Useful Information." Address: The Phillips Co., 170 Varlick St., New York, N. Y. It will be sent FREE.

In buying, be sure to get genuine Phillips Milk of Magnesia. Doctors have prescribed it for over 50 years.

"Milk of Magnesia" has been the U. S. Registered Mark of The Chas. H. Phillips Chemical Co., and its predecessor, Chas. H. Phillips, since 1875.—Adv.

WALNUT PLANT IN ORANGE TO OPEN IN WEEK

ORANGE, Sept. 25.—With the walnut harvest well under way, the newly remodelled Rosenberg packing house on the Santa Fe tracks is ready to begin work of handling the 1930 crop of nuts next week, according to A. L. Withrow, plant foreman.

The packing plant formerly was the McInnes orange house and extensive changes were this summer made to have the plant in readiness for fall work.

About 14 men and 18 women will be employed with the opening of the plant and more will be added to the force if needed, with the possibility of night and day shifts if the necessity arises.

Joe Handler, of Los Angeles, will arrive Monday to assume the position of plant manager during the walnut season. Mr. and Mrs. Withrow have been in Orange since June, when remodeling operations on the house were begun. Mrs. Withrow will be forewoman.

It is expected that about 1000 tons of nuts will be handled during the season, which probably will close in December.

The Rosenberg company has headquarters at San Francisco and is said to be the largest independent dried fruit concern in the United States.

Improvements at the plant include new offices and a recreation room for women fitted with chairs and tables.

STORY BY NAL COCHRAN — PICTURES BY KNICK

Down on the beach the Travel Man said, "Boys, I think I have a plan. Why don't you stage a little race to see who swims the best. I'll be the judge and stay on shore. For one of you a treat's in store. The winner gets a candy bar as soon as you're all dressed."

This plan brought forth a mighty cheer. Then Scouty cried, "We'll start down here and swim up to that little stage and then right back again. Remember, 'ere the race begins, the first one back's the one who wins. You'd better all look out for me. I'm speedy now and then."

They then lined up and off they tore, much to the fun of those on shore. Each tiny splashed and swam real hard to make a lot of speed. The Travel Man cried out, "Hey, boys! Just swim and don't make so much noise. A swimming stroke that's easier is what you Tiniies need."

But, on they went, as best they could. They passed the stake just as they should and started on the home stretch. Then 'twas thrilling as could be. Wee Clowny who thought he would be worst, lunged forth and reached the finish first. He won the candy bar and was as tickled as could be.

That night the bunch were glad to learn that they were moving on to Berne. The trip seemed rather short and when they got there, they were glad. "The capital of Switzerland is one more place you'll think is grand," exclaimed the friendly Travel Man. "You bet," said one small lad.

They rode up to a great big inn. Said one, "Our fun will now begin. I see a wondrous tallyho. Oh, gee, I'd like to ride." "Well, why not?" said the Travel Man. "As far as I'm concerned, you can. There's room for every one of us. The seats are nice and wide."

the council, thinking they would do as they had always done in the past, control the affairs of the world through this council. Luckily for the world they have been disappointed. At present there are nine small nations on the council giving them almost a two to one majority. To decide many important questions that come before the council, a unanimous vote is required. This provision gives the big powers a chance to prevent the small states forcing on them anything they do not want, but the rule works the other way and what is more important the big powers cannot just put anything over on the small states which they themselves do not approve.

"Again, instead of the council dominating the league as the big five intended it should, the assembly has asserted itself until it has become the powerful body."

Court Notes

Lois Margaret Fish today filed a divorce complaint against Luabert Fish, charging cruelty and habitual intemperance. The couple were married in Galveston, Texas, May 2, 1918, and separated July 1, 1930.

Inventory and appraisal of the estate of Mrs. M. F. Aronhalt, which was filed today by County Clerk J. M. Backs, shows the value of the estate to be $2250.

Notice of the determining sentence of Frank R. Pedrick, who was sentenced to San Quentin prison on a statutory charge committed in June 1929, was received from the clerk of the board of directors of San Quentin today by County Clerk J. M. Backs. The board fixed Pedrick's term at seven and one-half years. Commencing from the time he was received at the prison on July 16, 1929.

Judge G. K. Scovel today was hearing evidence in the trial of the divorce suit of Mary Hamblet against Charles Hamblet. In her complaint she charged failure to provide and cruelty, but the cruel charge was dismissed in court today when the trial got under way. They were married in 1924 and separated in May 1929. Hamblet is contesting the case.

An interlocutory divorce decree was granted to William Reinert yesterday by Judge G. K. Scovel after trial of his suit against his wife, Margaret Reinert, whom he charged with desertion. They were married in Elkton, Maryland, in 1923 and he alleged she deserted him on July 11, 1926.

ELECT OFFICERS FOR FORUM CLUB

Election of officers for the coming year was the business of the hour at the first meeting of the high school Forum club, held at the high school yesterday. George Munro, well known actor, was elected president, John McFarland, vice president and Betty Smedley, secretary-treasurer.

The Forum club promotes greater interest throughout the school in the subject of forensics. It also was decided that George Munro, commissioner of forensics, would be the representative of Santa Ana at the meeting of the Southern California Debating and Oratorical league, which will be held at the Central Junior High School in Los Angeles on October 4. Sheldon Hayden, advisor of the club, will accompany the commissioner to the meeting, where, among other things, they will determine the subject for the first debate of the year.

On October 3 the next meeting of the Forum club will take the form of a party and will be held at the home of Betty Smedley, at 2103 North Street. Chairman for the event are Betty Smedley, refreshments, and John McFarland, entertainment.

Hayden has urged everyone interested in debating or oratory to interview him. He also stated that visitors are welcome at the club meetings.

SALE OF TICKETS FOR ARIEL SLOW

This year's sale of tickets for the Ariel, the Santa Ana High school annual year book, is sadly behind last year's record, reports show. Last season over 800 Ariels were sold and requests for 50 more had to be turned down because there were not enough books.

According to Paul Wood, business manager of the sale, only 200 Ariel tickets have been sold so far. The price is scheduled to be raised from $2.00 to $3.00 on October 1, which means that the sale will take a big drop on that date.

The sale of student body tickets, which entitles the student to admission to all school league games, is in direct contrast with the Ariel sale, since more than 300 student body tickets have been sold during the first two weeks of the term. This sale sets a new record in the history of the school.

The increase in the number of tickets sold is due partially to the fact that the Ariel and the student body tickets are being sold separately this year. The price of the latter ticket is $1.50. In previous years the two were sold as one ticket.

THREE INJURED IN HIGHWAY MISHAPS

Three persons were slightly hurt in two accidents which occurred in the past 24 hours in different parts of the county, according to reports filed at the sheriff's office.

Carl Engwall, 23, sailor, U. S. S. Tennessee, and Ricardo Monreal, 38, Mexican, were slightly injured when the cars they were driving collided on the state highway about a mile north of the Orange County hospital. They were taken to the county hospital for treatment. State Traffic Officer Dan Adams investigated.

Togo Fisher, truck driver for the Maljan Fruit company, Los Angeles, was slightly injured yesterday noon when the truck he was driving collided with one driven by Alvis Palmer of the R. W. Rohr Construction company, Los Angeles. The accident happened at San Juan Capistrano.

Box With Cash Taken from Home

Burglars entered the home of John Zakarias at 311 East Chestnut street, Anaheim, last night. Their only loot was a small box containing $2 and several things of minor value.

Police records also show that an automobile belonging to Marion Berlinski, of 4126 Flower street, Bell, was stolen from his parking place at the Home bakery at Five Points last night after midnight. Mr. Berlinski is employed at the bakery.

BICYCLE "SPEEDER" FINED

When Alexander Hassan tried to ride his bicycle down a hill at Downhill, Ireland, recently, the machine got beyond control and ran into a group of boys playing football in the road. The boys escaped unhurt, but Hassan was knocked unconscious and had to spend several days in a hospital while cuts in his head healed. When released he was arrested for speeding and fined.

FEMALE AIR TRAVEL GROWS

Women of Europe are taking to air travel. In the last few months the proportion of women flying in air liners on the cross-Channel and provincial services has risen from approximately 50 per cent to more than 75 per cent. Several times recently all the passengers in planes arriving at Croydon, England, have been women.

PREPARE DISPLAY

Farm bureau officials are busy preparing the bureau exhibit at the county fair. There is to be an extensive series of charts showing water conditions and water levels in the county, and a miniature reproduction of the Santa Ana river, flowing through the district which is made rich by the use of its waters.

Americans on a liner crossing recently from New York to England started the fashion of wearing evening clothes for breakfast.

DEATHS OFTEN ARE CAUSED BY HOME MISHAPS

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 25.—Mark Twain, in his day, remarked that all beds were "deadly" beds, because people die in them.

But nowadays many persons hasten their end by rolling out of beds onto the floor. This, and other falls around the home were cited today by Dr. Walter M. Dickie, state health director, in reporting that 3 1/2 per cent of all deaths in California last year were due to external causes, mostly accidents in which diseases were not involved.

The total number of such deaths was 5558 out of an aggregate of 65,363 fatalities from all causes.

Falls, in both the home and in industry, caused almost one-sixth of such deaths, while auto accidents were responsible for nearly one-half of this toll. In addition to falls from beds, steps, ladders, furniture, or slipping on waxed floors, other dangers in the home included food poisoning which caused 42 deaths last year.

Dr. Dickie reported that falls in homes and industry were responsible for 355 deaths in California in 1929.

California's toll of drowning claimed 332 lives during the year and 226 died of burns, 168 in rail road accidents, 2058 in automobile crashes and 92 as a result of airplane accidents.

Excessive cold killed two persons, while excessive heat claimed 87 lives, with electric shocks taking 68 lives.

The toll of homicide for the year was 362. Seven deaths were caused by starvation.

Number of deaths from other causes were: Accidental burns, 266; conflagration, 59; industrial absorption of poisonous gases, 130; motorcycle accidents, 32; mines and quarries, 38; and mechanical suffocation, 48.

EVENING SALUTATION

"Noise is on the increase. Each new invention seems noisier than the last."
—E. E. FREE, chemist and physicist.

THE HUMAN FACTOR

Isn't it strange that business depressions in the country are due to the very conditions which would cause an individual or corporation to feel that they were right on top of the world? Here we have the banks loaded, at the present time, with more money than they have had literally for years, and wanting to lend it out. We have more wheat and oats and automobiles and beef and everything than people can wear as well as eat.

Our granaries are full; our shops and factories are loaded; our banks filled with money, and some folks are going around wringing their hands and whining about a depression. The people who have these things don't want them, and they want to get rid of them.

There are other people, however, who need them and can't get them. And most of the people who need them and can't get them are willing to work for them, but some way or other there is a hitch in the whole scheme. No one can get the "bugs" out of the machinery.

It is changing slowly, but it remains that way until through some awkward move somewhere, which nobody seems to realize where and what it is, the machinery will start again. As some one has suggested, if we didn't produce enough wheat or cattle or automobiles and didn't have enough money, if our banks and bins were empty instead of loaded, that would be sure enough cause for a depression.

We wish some of these men who analyzed an atom and divided it into electrons, and now are sub-dividing the electrons, who are discovering a ray by which they can look through a piece of steel, and who have discovered a device by which they can measure the heat emitted by a star millions of light years from us, would put the same close reasoning on some of our economic and social problems. Possibly we would get somewhere.

We suppose their reply would be, if asked to do so, that there are too many variables they must consider. In the problems with which they have been dealing, there are certain laws which are known, and facts which are fixed, so that they can do accurate figuring. But you never can tell what human beings will do and the social problem is a problem with human beings. Of course, they can't tell—three-fourths of the population do not know what they are going to do next. If the social engineer could decipher what most people would do, or if they would do exactly what he suggested, every wheel probably could be made to turn, every furnace could be fired up, and the hungry people would disappear.

"HONOR" AMONG GAMBLERS

It isn't very often that gamblers are sued on their checks. There has always been a certain "honor" among those who sit in the game. A man may owe his grocery bill, his rent, his banker, his doctor, and his family may even be starving, but if he can get any money, anywhere, he usually pays the gambling debt first. This is considered "honor" among those who participate in the subtle art of trying to get money out of the other fellow's pocket by chance and luck.

We suppose this "honor" is due to the fact that gambling being illegal; that an I. O. U. or other evidence of indebtedness based upon a gambling transaction is not collectable, and because of its illegality, it becomes therefore more "honorable." The "honorableness" is in direct proportion to its illegality, and the certainty of its payment is, as a rule, in proportion to its "honorableness." We have actually known of a gambler ripping the carpets off his own floor, pawing them to pay a gambling debt, and his family without food in the house. The sense of "honor" was very deep in such a man.

In many people's minds, a man is justified in committing homicide in case the robbed refuses to stop robbed. We recall the case of Arnold Rothstein, the New York gambler, who was murdered for just such a feeling.

But now comes Clara Bow, and after gambling and trying to win the other fellow's money, she loses, gives checks apparently, and refuses payment. She hasn't this sense of "honor" that other gamblers have. She will be taboo in "first class" society hereafter.

Clara, you should be "honorable" regardless of whom it hurts or of any honest money you owe elsewhere. The gambling debt among those who gamble is always first. The butcher, the baker, and candlestick maker and the people who supply generally the necessities of life occupy a more "dishonorable" position in the collection of money. Above all things preserve your "honor." How do you expect to enjoy yourself at these gambling joints hereafter if you refuse to be robbed of your money by these games of chance, without "dishonoring" your checks?

AN EXPERIMENT IN CHARACTER

The Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. has done a number of unusual things in the way of Y. M. C. A. work since it opened its present building, six years ago. It has made some notably successful experiments in character building and in the service of men and boys.

One of its outstanding undertakings has been the ambitious project to make Y. M. C. A. privileges available to all boys, without financial cost. Two years ago, after an exhaustive study of the situation, the board of directors, acting on the recommendation of the committee of boys' work, decided to eliminate all charges for boys, and to put the equipment of the association at the service of all the boys of the community. The result has been a very great increase in the number of boys served, and in the results from the work done. The board of directors recently voted to enter upon the third year of operation under this plan, convinced that it pays, even though it is costly.

A considerable part of the amount which the Y. M. C. A. asks through the Community Chest is required to maintain this work for boys in such a way as to make it available to every lad, regardless of his ability to pay. The value of this work among the boys as a safeguard for the future is hard to estimate. It costs a few thousand dollars a year today, but it may pay a hundred-fold in its consequences tomorrow.

The benefits accrue to the boy in the wise use of leisure, the better physical set-up of his body, improved health, better understanding of his obligations as a member of human society, and an introduction, for many, to the very practical aspects of the Christian life. It is estimated by those in charge of the work that it costs, on an average, somewhere between ten and twelve dollars per boy per year to maintain this community-wide service. It is just about the cheapest form of community insurance that could be bought anywhere.

According to the latest yachting dope, the Shamrock will find it is in for no bargain sail.

A NEW G. O. P. NOMINEE?

Upton Sinclair has received an engraved card from the Secretary of State notifying him that he has been nominated for Governor on the Republican ticket.

Sinclair wrote back to the Secretary of State, Mr. Jordan, and expressed his surprise, but also his appreciation, and told him that he had understood differently from the newspapers, but wanted the printer of the ballots to follow the official record.

If, by any chance, this mistake had been made by the printer, and he had actually printed the name of Sinclair in the place of Rolph on the Republican ticket on the ballots throughout California, we predict that Sinclair would have been elected, for it is the ticket at such a time that elects the man and not the man himself. Incidentally, we think it is rather agreed among people who know all three candidates, that California would have as intelligent, able, conscientious man in the gubernatorial chair if such an accident occurred, as they would have in case either candidate of the major parties was elected.

An Eight Hour Day For Housewives

Christian Science Monitor

According to a report issued by the International Home Economics Association, the average American housewife devotes sixty-three hours a week to her housework. This is from 20 to 50 per cent less than is spent by the home makers of various European countries.

The average French housewife is reported as spending from 92 to 115 hours per week in looking after her home; in Italy a week's work is from 86 to 100 hours; in Poland, from 79 to 91 hours; in Czechoslovakia, from 105 to 119 hours; in Switzerland, from 112 to 118 hours; and in Spain, from 75 to 108 hours. Compared with this, the American woman finds seven days of nine hours each, or six days of slightly over ten hours each sufficient to get through the week's household duties. The reason why the American woman gets her daily job done so much more quickly than her European sister is said to be, not that she slights her housework, or does it badly, but that she is more efficient and has at her command numerous labor-saving devices.

The typical American's attitude toward these figures will not be one of satisfied self-complacency. He will probably be somewhat surprised to learn that the average housewife in the United States has to work as long hours as she does. If the forty-eight-hour week is the maximum which should be required of a man—and this is now pretty generally admitted—then, why should a woman be expected to work a full twenty-five hours longer? How soon can the American home maker be put on an eight-hours-a-day, six-days-a-week basis?

Honoring Drill Master of Washington's Army

San Francisco Chronicle

The two hundredth anniversary of the birth of Friedrich Wilhelm von Steuben, widely celebrated throughout the country and graced by a von Steuben memorial two-cent stamp, reminds us of the services of the sturdy German drill master who did so much to convert the raw material of the Continental army into trained soldiers.

Von Steuben came to this country at the darkest hours of the Revolution. The wisdom of Washington saw the value of the volunteer officer who had been trained under the great Frederick. Without waiting for action by Congress Washington made von Steuben inspector general and ordered the brigadiers to give him the fullest support.

Unable to speak English, von Steuben went about his task with enthusiasm and tact that brought results. A strict disciplinarian, he yet laid down the rule that an officer's "first object should be to gain the love of his men by treating them with every possible kindness."

Von Steuben's arrival here synchronized with the change in the patriot fortunes. That he contributed largely to turning the tide is the testimony of history. America owes him high honor.

Noble Rivalry Between the Stamp Collectors

San Bernardino Sun

Big Bill Thompson of Chicago never succeeded in "busting King George on the snoot," as he patriotically yearned to do, but another American at last has put the British sovereign in his place. Arthur Hind, a plush manufacturer of Utica, N. Y., has elbowed George aside and bought from under his nose, a postage stamp that George particularly wanted. These two, it should be understood, are the world's leading stamp collectors.

Mr. Hind, by the way, paid $32,000 for the faded old sticker, a one-cent British Guiana stamp. George, with all his doctor bills and everything from his recent sickness, probably couldn't afford the money, and the plush business has been pretty good.

Is any stamp, canceled or otherwise, worth $32,000? Don't ask us. But British Guiana can print all the stamps she wants to, and for a dozen stamps at that rate you could just about buy the country.

CONFESSION

There's a zest in the breath of the blizzard,
As it sweeps from the snow covered pole,
There's a pulse-stirring thrill in its keen stinging chill
That is good for the indolent soul.
Whoever has dwelt in the tropics
Wherever the ocean is warm
Will be stirred to the quick by the sting and the flick
Of a rip roaring midsummer storm.
But I live in the North, and I merely require
The comfort and ease of a snapping log fire.

There's a joy in arising at daylight,
And taking a good headful run
Through the damp morning dew while the day is still new,
And as yet unilluminated by the sun.
Only sluggards can sleep through the dawning
When the birds call them forth to the hills,
And the laboring throng marches gaily along
To its toil in the marts and the mills.
I would also be up at the dawning's first peep.
Except for the fact that I rather would sleep.

There's a pleasure in hard useful labor
That nothing in life can excel,
Those who try it, I learn, can with calm unconcern
Bid the pastimes of leisure farewell.
To be always at work and achieving
Gives existence a purpose and aim,
And one dies more content if his days he has spent
In joyously playing the game.
But I am an idle and indolent oaf
And I always have found it more pleasant to loaf.

The Much-Maligned Malthus

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

According to one phase of the famous Malthusian Theory, the great masses of mankind can never rise far above poverty, because population tends to grow faster than supplies of food. Today everybody who has heard of "the Farm Problem" knows that Malthus was wrong. The world is not worrying over a food shortage but over a food surplus.

This Malthusian Theory of Population was generally accepted and widely taught; but very few persons ever heard of the Malthusian Theory of Consumption. Yet the latter is as sound as the former is unsound.

Malthus held that higher standards of living depend on increased production, and that increased production cannot be sustained without increased consumption. He exposed the fallacy in Adam Smith's praise of parsimony.

"National saving," said Malthus, "has its limits. It is folly for a nation to save more in productive equipment than the markets require. Consumer demand fixes the limits of sensible saving. 'To create the demand,' declared Malthus, 'there must be an adequate consumption, either among the producers themselves, or other classes of consumers.'"

Why did the ruling classes accept the false Malthusian Theory and ignore the true one? Because, in spite of some appearances to the contrary, the ruling classes were composed of human beings; and it is human nature to accept only those views which appear to justify prejudices.

The ruling classes thought they could keep themselves rich only by keeping the working classes poor. So the ruling classes were quick to believe any doctrine proving that the poor never could be anything but poor.

The true Malthusian Theory, on the other hand, held that prosperity depended on increased consumption by the working classes. That idea ran counter to ruling class prejudices. It was ignored. Not for a hundred years did it get a fair hearing.

It is only within the past decade, as a matter of fact, that the views of the much-maligned Malthus have come to play a leading part in actual business practice.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

COWED BY THE CROWD

Yesterday I spoke of the dilemma that disturbs the modern American. He cannot easily live the free-lance life of thought and action his fathers lived in the simple society of the frontier. More and more he must live his life of thought and action in and through highly organized groups. And he fights their prejudices and traditions at his peril.

Today I want to suggest what is happening to millions of Americans as they face this dilemma. When the American finds himself more or less tied hand and foot by the crowd-mind of the group through which he must function, he faces one or the other of three serious temptations.

He may become a sleek conformist. He may become a cynical revolutionist.

Finding the roads to professional power reserved, in the main, for men of regular opinions and action, whatever dreams of originality of mind or motive he may have had he looks away with the trinkets and toys of his immaturity, and proceeds to play the game by the crowd-established rules. Finding political independence in a party-ruled nation an adventure in loneliness and ostracism, he turns in disgust from any attempt to discharge his civic duty.

Finding business and industry increasingly vast and impersonal machines, he listens sympathetically to wholesale denunciations of modern industrialism, and joins the army of the chronic malcontents.

We dare not trust the future of the economic and political order of America to men animated by the cowardice of the conformist, the cynicism of the slacker, or the sullenness of the revolutionist! And yet the increasing crowd-mindedness of America is daily driving millions of men into one or the other of these moods.

The free mind of the first-class man can create a great and glowing future for America; the crowd-mind cannot. Unless we deliberately nourish intellectual independence and guarantee to our first-class men the utmost feasible freedom of opinion and action, we must resign ourselves to a sterile and standardized future.

And we must learn to know our first-class men when we see them, whether they are at the moment riding in the engines of power and prestige or trudging disinherited down the tracks. If we are to meet constructively the challenge of the twenty-five years of American development—industrial and political—we must recover our lost sense of the central importance of the individual, for crowd-rule means death to a creative civilization.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

MONEY DOWN

To the Boys and Girls:

We have to buy what we get in this world. We must pay as we go. There is a coin far more precious than any that comes from the mint. It is made of smiles and tears, of joy and sorrow, of victory and defeat. We pay in that coin to the last penny. Not one of us escapes.

We live successfully in proportion to the wisdom of our spending. If we pay too dearly for what we get we fail. If we pay wisely, we succeed. I am measuring success by the amount of money we lay by in the bank. The bank account is very useful but it is of no account if we have not a fund of happiness to back it. Riches, power, fame, without happiness is but bitterness.

How can we make certain of being happy? By remembering that its price is love. By love I mean the very widest, deepest, sanest sort of love. That alone buys happiness.

If you love people you serve them. A man cannot be filled with love and cheat his neighbor. He may gain material things by cheating but the price he pays is unhappiness. A man can rise to power by trampling down his weaker fellows. He will have to wear his crown in his own empty house for there will be no friends to rejoice at his victory.

The loss of friendship is a severe price to pay for getting on in the world. When one is surrounded by friends, when smiles and kind words are the fare of everyday, one is likely to forget their value. When one is left alone, when smiles are forced and words are formal, when there is no warmth in the tones of those who greet us, life is not worth its price.

Boys and girls have little notion of all this. They have barely scratched the surface of life yet. Everything they need is given them. The friends of the family are their friends. The children with whom they play are their companions and friends, ready to hand. Life to them is a gift. But all unconsciously they are buying their happiness day by day. What he pays for he gets. He gets nothing without having first paid its price.

When old people shake their heads and say, "Don't do this, it is not good for you," that is what they mean. They have gone over this road long ago and they know. They are telling you that what you are buying may look like fun but it is really a cup of sorrow. Better think. Better buy something else with the coin of your spirit.

Self-control is high priced. Self-duplication is higher even than that. Service is costly. Unselfishness comes very high. But the thing they buy is without money and without price in the market of life. They purchase your spiritual content, your deep happiness. Who wants to live cheaply, let him. As for you, be wise. Lay up the sort of treasure that lasts always. Don't be cheated in the market place. Get your money's worth of happiness. Nothing else is worth while.

THE S-51 TRAGEDY

On Sept. 25, 1925, the worst submarine disaster in the history of the United States Navy occurred when the U. S. submarine S-51 sunk near Block Island, off the Rhode Island coast, after it had collided with the passenger steamer, City of Rome. Thirty-four members of the submarine's crew perished; three were rescued.

The accident occurred at about 10:30 at night. Captain Diehl of the City of Rome said that the S-51 sank in about 15 seconds, and that after he had drifted over the spot where it went down for an hour, in hopes of picking up survivors, he proceeded to port.

For this action he was severely criticized. It was the popular contention at the time that he should have stood by for a longer period, preferably until daylight.

Although rescue ships were rushed to the scene of the tragedy, efforts to raise the sunken submarine failed day after day, until the hope of bringing any of the imprisoned
